Christopher, Knight Tangle At GOP Meet

Adversaries Don't Meet But Launch
A Bitter Fight

I-J Special Report

SALINAS—If the California Republican Assembly hoped its first candidate screening meeting here over the weekend would result in a clean, hard-fought primary among friendly adversaries for GOP nomination, they most surely were disappointed.

Former Gov. Goodwin J. Knight, an announced candidate for his old job, and Mayor George Christopher of San Francisco, a Richard M. Nixon supporter but a potential candidate if the former vice president doesn't run, saw to that.

Knight and Christopher tangled in a sea of charges and counter charges. Christopher, who spoke first, castigated Knight for criticizing Nixon's attitude toward his candidacy and for Knight's "fanatical obsession against his own party."

KNIGHT SPEAKS

Knight, speaking three hours later, tossed aside his prepared speech and "amazed and shocked" charged the mayor "has deliberately and knowingly falsified the record."

After a night's sleep Knight was still boiling mad and lashed out again at the mayor for "running out" on a face to face meeting with him. Christopher had returned to San Francisco after his Saturday noon speech ("I have work awaiting me at my office") and hadn't waited to hear Knight's answer or to talk with the former governor.

Both of them charged the other was "destroying the unity of the party" by his "irresponsible charges."

KEEPS QUIET

Harold "Butch" Powers, former lieutenant governor now announced for the governorship, came to the meeting yesterday, but kept himself from becoming embroiled in the Knight-Christopher fracas. He said, however, he is in the race to stay whether Nixon runs or not.

Marin Sen. John F. McCarthy, a lieutenant governor candidate, emphasized the need for party unity in his speech to the Saturday night banquet. But he also lashed out at Gov. Edmund G. Brown, charging Brown had "borrowed" good Republican bills and legislative

U.N. Council To Meet On Successor

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (UPI)—The United Nations Security Council was to meet this afternoon to consider a successor to Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold, it was announced today.

The news of Hammarskjold's death in a plane crash in Africa was made officially known by Dr. Hernane Taverese de Sa Brazil, under-secretary for public information.

The U. N. officer's voice shook as he announced that Hammarskjold had been killed. A short time later, Liberian ambassador Nathan Barnes of Liberia, president of the security council, announced that the 11-nation body would meet informally to discuss a successor to Hammarskjold.

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (UPI)—New Zealand proposed yesterday that the 16th General Assembly debate the question of Chinese representation in its session starting tomorrow.

The United States made known that it would vote for such a debate — thus dropping its 10-year-old strategy of postponing the discussion from year to year. The switch was only a matter of tactics.

A spokesman said the U. S. still will oppose any effort to oust the Chinese Nationalists and seat the Chinese Communists.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President John F. Kennedy today expressed "profound sorrow" over the death of U. N. Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold. There were indications it might kill any possibility that Kennedy would address the world organization.

The president said in the statement made public by the White House that "many millions of people of all nationalities" would share his sorrow over Hammarskjold's death in an African plane crash.

SOVIET UNION EXPLODES 13TH NUCLEAR SHOT

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Soviet Union today exploded its 13th nuclear shot in the atmosphere since Sept. 1, the Atomic Energy Commission reported.

The Russian device had the power "on the border of a megaton yield," the AEC said. This would be an explosion about the strength of one million tons of TNT.

The AEC announcement:

"The Soviet Union again conducted a nuclear detonation in the atmosphere early today. The detonation was on the border of a megaton yield and occurred in the vicinity of Novaya Zemlya."

Meeting On Novato Club Decision Set

Directors of the Novato Community, Inc., will probably hold a special meeting Wednesday night to decide whether to appeal a Marin Superior Court decision ordering that the organization turn over its clubhouse to the City of Novato.

John Sorenson, president, said today he would confer with Jack Burnam, attorney for Novato Community, Inc., in the court case, before deciding definitely when to hold the meeting.

Sorenson said he was "deeply shocked" by the decision of Judge Joseph G. Wilson that the clubhouse must be given to the city in accordance with intentions of the club's founders. He said the club is in turmoil because of the garden section's voting to secede last Tuesday.

"There has not been a mass resignation of the garden section," he said. "The club still has 195 members. The garden section cannot alter the structure of the club anymore than the book section or drama section."

"The club kept the clubhouse open for seven years, all done with a hard struggle. Now, do we get thrown out, or do we get seven years of free rent?" he asked.

"Novato would not be as good a city in which to raise a family without the club," he declared.

Erdelatz Relieved

OAKLAND (UPI)—Eddie Erdelatz today was relieved of his duties as head coach of the Oakland Raiders. He had held the post since February, 1960. The Raiders' announcement said there was no further comment.

He Searched The World For Peaceful Times

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Dag Hammarskjold was a coolly poised diplomat who searched the world for the makings of peace. He came under fierce attack, but he insisted that nothing mattered but the United Nations and its efforts to safeguard the peoples of the world.

Many persons disagreed with some of his methods and with the usefulness of the United Nations itself. But few questioned the bachelor Swede's dedication to his job.

He was the second secretary-general of the United Nations, the organization that grew out of World War II.

The Congo brought Hammarskjold the severest test in his eight years of directing the United Nations. He was on his third mission to the Congo when his plane disappeared.

It was at the eve of a new session of the U. N. General Assembly, where the Soviet Union could be expected to renew its attack on the secretary general.

Last year the Soviet Union denounced him as a willful tool of imperialists because of the way he was carrying out U. N. policy in the Congo.

Hammarskjold's courage in refusing to quit under fire permitted the United Nations to go on functioning without the necessity of agreeing on a new secretary-general or a substitute for the present secretariat.

His predecessor, Trygve Lie, resigned in the fall of 1952 after falling out with the Russians over Korean policy. It took many months of wrangling before a promise was reached on Hammarskjold as Lie's successor.

Slight, sandy-haired, blue-eyed Hammarskjold already was known as a quick-thinking economist and a master of the art of compromise when he came to the $55,000 a year U. N. post.

He had been deputy foreign minister in Sweden and vice chairman of the executive committee of the Organization for European Economic Cooperation.

His task as secretary-general took him on many varied international missions.

Hammarskjold was born July 29, 1905, the son of Hjalmar Hammarskjold, the Swedish premier during World War I.

Flying On Mission For Peace Of Congo

NDOLA, Northern Rhodesia (UPI)—Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold was killed today in the crash of his United Nations plane on a personal mission to bring peace in the Congo.

The Rhodesian federal government announced that the 56-year-old Hammarskjold perished in the burning wreckage of his white-painted DC-6B which smashed to earth early today. He was flying to a rendezvous with Moise Tshombe, president of the Katanga government whose warriors are battling U. N. troops.

The death of the cool and courageous Swedish diplomat, for the past eight years the secretary-general of the world organization, dealt a tragic and stunning blow to the United Nations on the eve of its critical 16th General Assembly in New York.

The plane crash achieved in its way what Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev had been seeking by political pressure—removal of Hammarskjold from his post.

FOUND IN PLANE

Hammarskjold's body was found in the smoking wreckage of the plane in the copper belt of Northern Rhodesia. Five others also died in the crash. There was one survivor.

The four-engine plane had taken off from Leopoldville carrying Hammarskjold and a small party of U. N. aides last night on a flight to Ndola.

Tshombe, head of the rebellious Katanga province, was waiting for him there. The Katanga forces were reported over-running troops of the United Nations attempting to take over the province on behalf of the central Congo government.

Hammarskjold had hoped to reach a cease-fire agreement with Tshombe to halt the Congo bloodshed.

CIRCLES FIELD

Shortly after midnight a plane believed to be Hammarskjold's contacted the Ndola control tower. It circled the field and then flew away.

Early this morning the Rhodesian government ordered a massive air search, and the United States put all its planes

Only Survivor Says He Heard Explosions

NDOLA, Northern Rhodesia (UPI)—The only survivor of the plane crash in which Dag Hammarskjold died said tonight there were several explosions aboard the plane before it crashed.

The U. N. secretary-general had changed his mind about wanting to land at Ndola, the survivor said, and just before the scheduled landing at Ndola told the pilot to change course.

The man, a U. N. security guard whose name was not released, said just before the plane crashed there was an explosion, followed by several smaller explosions.

The man said Hammarskjold at the last minute had changed his mind about wanting to land at Ndola with a meeting with Tshombe and ordered the pilot to change course. The crash came a few minutes later.

School Aid Bill Passed By House

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The House passed and sent to President John F. Kennedy today a bill extending two school aid programs for two years. It was the merest token of the ambitious school program Kennedy had sought.

The two-part bill extends for two years the National Defense Education Act and the impacted areas program, designed to help school districts with many children of federal employees. The total cost for the two is 900 million dollars.

COALITION OUT?

Adenauer's Party Bows

BONN, Germany (UPI)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, deprived by yesterday's parliamentary elections of the majority which permitted him to rule Germany with an iron hand for 12 years, rejected today any thought of coalition with the powerful Socialists.

The 85-year-old chancellor, his commanding authority now in doubt, told a news conference it is essential that his foreign policy be continued in the light of the current deep world crisis over Berlin, regardless of the structure of the new government.

Adenauer left open the question of who would be the next chancellor. But, asked whether his Christian Democrats would work in coalition with the Free Democrats, now holding the balance of power, the aged chancellor replied "we have worked together with the Free Democratic party before."

Both West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt's Socialists and the Free Democrats oppose Adenauer remaining as chancellor, and say they will reject a coalition until the chancellor retires. That can mean his successor will be popular Ludwig Erhard, an economic expert whose free enterprise policies helped West Germany become a powerful industrial nation.

Adenauer's Christian Democrats lost 5 per cent of their popular support and about 40 seats in the new 497-member Parliament which holds its first meeting Oct. 17. Adenauer remains in office until then. The next chancellor will be chosen by majority vote of the new parliament.

West Germany remains firmly in the western camp. At most the election result could mean minor differences in outlook on the approach to the cold war struggle.

Adenauer was embittered and angered by his election setback. He blamed much of it on the role of radio and television in the campaign.

Railroad Says Repair Work Not Its Job

Northwestern Pacific Railroad has sidestepped responsibility for repair of Ranchitos Road where it has caved in above the north end of the Puente Suello Hill railroad tunnel which burned July 20, it learned today.

While leaving the matter open for further discussion if desired, the railroad's view is that the county bears a responsibility for repair in this case which did not exist with relation to the Lincoln Avenue cave-in which has now been repaired.

A letter from George L. Morrison, vice president and general manager, to county public works director Marvin W. Brigham recites background which the railroad believes absolves it from obligation to do the repair.

Easement for construction of a highway was granted in 1917 by the railroad to the state, according to the Morrison letter.

The easement was given, says the letter, on condition that the state assume responsibility for any necessary repair. In taking over the state's rights Marin County similarly took over this obligation, the letter recites.

But if county officials don't see the matter in this light, Morrison wrote, he is willing to discuss it further.

Brigham said today he was investigating and will report to the county supervisors as soon as he feels fully acquainted with the details.

CHARRED PLANE—Firemen swarm around charred tail section of a four-engine Electra of Northwest Airlines that crashed yesterday morning after takeoff from O'Hare International airport.

Airlines that crashed yesterday morning after takeoff from O'Hare International airport.

Plane Crashes Minute After Takeoff At Chicago—37 Dead

CHICAGO (AP)—A Northwest Airlines Electra—frantically radioing, "No control"—spun out of the air seconds after takeoff today, struck a railroad embankment, plunged 800 feet across a field and exploded. All 37 aboard, including a mother and her four children, perished.

The prop jet Electra—which witnesses said reached an altitude of only 200 to 300 feet, then seemed to falter and lose power—had just left O'Hare International Airport when its right wingtip sheared through high tension wires about one and one-quarter miles from the end of the runway.

The wingtip then glanced off a 35-foot-high railway embankment and the plane careened and bounced into the air. The Electra then exploded and drove through a pumpkin field, flinging out burning bodies and plane parts.

The last words from the doomed airliner—preserved on a tape recorder in the airport control tower—were "No control," which Federal Aviation Agency officials said indicated the pilot had lost control of the craft.

One witness said the four-engine craft, carrying a crew of five and 32 passengers, burst into flames before the explosion. Nolan Miller, 33, of suburban Northlake, a construction worker at the airport, said: "I saw the right wing hit a high tension line just outside the airport boundary and the whole body of it lit up in a huge blue arc. Then it went down—enveloped in flames." Other witnesses said they heard passengers screaming as the Florida-bound Electra hurtled to the ground southwest of O'Hare near suburban Bensenville.

The crash was the second major airline disaster in the Chicago area this month. A Trans World Airlines Constellation plunged into a field near suburban Hinsdale Sept. 1, shortly after takeoff from Midway Airport, killing all 78 persons aboard.

Allan S. Boyd, chairman of the Civil Aeronautics Board, said, "So far as we know, there were no malfunctions" in the Electra before it crashed.

"So far as we are able to tell, there was no reason to question the structural integrity of Electra aircraft," he added.

Federal authorities said the wreckage would be reassembled for a "painstaking analysis inside a hanger at either O'Hare or Midway."

Tam Information Night Tomorrow

Tamalpais High School will distribute its first "parents' handbook" in its 53-year history at a program for parents of freshmen and new students tomorrow at 8 p.m. in Ruby Scott auditorium.

The handbook, according to Principal Richard E. Campion, will outline curriculum required for graduation and expected deportment. It will summarize special services in health, counseling and guidance.

Parents who attend the "information night" will be able to meet with counselors, teachers and administrators, Campion said.

A music program will feature George Duke, a junior of Marin City. Refreshments will be served by the Tamalpais Parent-Teachers Assn.

New York, N. Y. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain—without surgery.

Federal authorities and Northwest Orient officials joined in an investigation of the Electra crash, roping off an area a quarter of a mile long and about 200 yards wide where the plane fell.

FBI agents searched the crash site for possible evidence of sabotage.

Of the 32 passengers, there were 14 women, five children and 13 men. One pilot, co-pilot, flight engineer and two stewardesses made up the crew.

The Electra bore five members of the Al M. Coutu family of suburban Waukegan to their deaths. Coutu, a disabled veteran of the Korean War, drove his wife, Joyce, and their four children, ranging in age from five years to four months, to the airfield. He put them aboard the doomed Electra for Tampa.

As the Electra roared off the runway, Coutu went to the observation tower and watched in numbed horror as the plane exploded and spattered against the ground.

Former Turk Premier Goes To Gallows

ISTANBUL (AP)—Ousted Premier Adnan Menderes was hanged yesterday for crimes against the Turkish constitution during ten years of strongman rule.

The 62-year-old pro-Western Menderes followed two other top ministers in his former cabinet to the gallows. Ex-Foreign Minister Fatin Rustu Zorlu and former Finance Minister Hassan Polatkan were executed Saturday.

They were convicted with Menderes after a ten-month trial before a revolutionary court of violating the constitution.

Menderes took an overdose of sleeping pills after hearing the verdict Friday and his execution was delayed until medical examiners ruled that he was fit for execution.

A team of physicians treated him through the weekend, and a communique issued by the ruling National Unity Committee said he was found to be completely recovered.

They were married in 1943 and separated this month.

Extension Course Set for Tomorrow
A University of California Extension evening course in "Social Studies in the Elementary School" will begin tomorrow in the library of Meadow Park School, Hamilton Air Force Base, at 7 p.m.

Ten Escape East Berlin During Vote

BERLIN (UPI)—Ten East Germans were reported today to have broken across the city's Communist wall to freedom during an election night punctuated with gunfire and tear gas.

Residents of East Berlin were marched to the polls yesterday housing block by housing block and Communist Mayor Friedrich Ebert announced that 98.71 per cent of the "eligible voters" cast their ballots 99.86 per cent for the Communist single list of candidates.

POLICEMAN FLEES
West Berlin police said that during the hectic night at least 10 persons reached West Berlin including one Communist policeman (Vopo) who grabbed a fellow officer's gun and leaped over the barrier.

During the night, Vopos moved in on a crowd of East Berliners near the border and drove them back with tear gas bombs and warning shots. A loudspeaker toured the streets, blaring: "Citizens of the German Democratic Republic. Leave the streets. Close your windows. Don't let yourselves be provoked. The people's police are keeping order and guarding your security."

LIGHTS ON
The Communists turned searchlights along the East Berlin houses and against western photographers trying to photograph the incident.

The official Communist party newspaper Neues Deutschland hailed the East Berlin vote as another part of the "march to a peace treaty."

Typhoon Damage
TOKYO (AP)—Typhoon Nancy was blowing itself out in the North Pacific today after cutting a swath of death and destruction across Japan.

The human toll rose to 175 dead, 18 missing, 3,186 injured and more than 600,000 homeless. Crop damage was estimated at 130 million dollars and property loss at another 100 million dollars.

The storm struck a blow at the Japanese economy and the price of fish in Tokyo, which escaped the brunt of the wind, rose to 20 per cent.

The full force of the storm ripped through a string of cities on the Japan South Sea coast and through northern Honshu and Hokkaido.

An American spokesman said damage to U.S. military bases in Japan was light and no Americans were reported injured.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Hurricane On Way
MIAMI (UPI)—Super-hurricane Esther, with gusts estimated as high as 200 miles an hour in squalls, churned across the Atlantic in the general direction of the eastern seaboard today.

The Miami weather bureau predicted the storm, blowing at a sustained 150 miles an hour, would turn more to the northwest tonight. Such a change in course would lessen the threat to south Florida but a hurricane forecaster said it "doesn't materially change the threat to the rest of the eastern seaboard."

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A San Quentin ex-convict, released two months ago after serving a nine-year term for rape, has been booked here on suspicion of attempted rape and assault with intent to commit murder.

Police said Robert Frye, 43, attempted to rape Mrs. Annette Sandwell, 44-year-old widow, in the woman's home yesterday. She was treated for knife cuts.

Frye was arrested in bushes near the woman's home. A bloody butcher knife was found 10 feet from him.

Russia Fires Second Rocket Into Pacific

MOSCOW (UPI)—The Soviet Union fired a second multi-stage carrier rocket into the central Pacific ocean today, the official news agency Tass reported.

Tass said the "flight of the rocket and the functioning of all its systems took place in full conformity with the set program."

It said the "high-precision control system ensured the landing of the dummy of the last stage of the rocket in the immediate proximity to the spot where the first rocket, launched on Sept. 14 of this year, landed."

The Soviet Union announced the new series of tests of "new and more powerful" missiles in the central Pacific would be held through Oct. 15.

The first missile was fired more than 7,500 miles and landed about 1,000 yards off the target area, according to the Russians.

The American Stock Exchange originally was known as the Curb Exchange because member brokers did their trading on the curb of the sidewalk.

MOZART FESTIVAL 18th Century Music Outdoors Is Success

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

Yesterday afternoon's attendance of around 300 at the Mozart festival staged in Stolte Grove, Homestead Valley, more than fulfilled hopes of the Homestead Valley Improvement Club that the experimental outdoor event would prove successful.

Perfectly suited to presentation in this beautifully wooded glen was the afternoon of a type of music written by Mozart for 18th Century music lovers to enjoy as diversion al fresco.

The 20 musicians organized by the Bach to Mozart chamber players, who appeared in the club-sponsored candlelight concerts last winter in Mill Valley, turned in a delightful performance of this simple, melodious and sensuous music.

The suite-like numbers, often in dance rhythms, were Casation in B Flat Major K. 99; Divertimento No. 7 in D Major, K. 205; Divertimento No. 11 in D Major, K. 251; and Serenade No. 4 in D Major, K. 203.

Of these the Divertimento No. 11 and the serenade were best performed. So apparently in rapport with each other and the music were the players that direction by Ross Taylor of the serenade hardly seemed necessary.

Making memorable impressions were the strings in the serenade, Raymond Duste's oboe playing in Divertimento No. 11 and much of Everett O'Bannon's violin playing, though at times it was a little too dominant for other instruments.

While acoustics were remarkably good, especially in the center front of the simple stage, perfection of tone was hardly to be expected outdoors, where winds can so easily affect sensitive instruments. This may have been why purity was sometimes lacking in the horns.

If this becomes an annual or possibly a semi-annual event — fall and spring — a small shell might be worth considering for the protection it would afford the instruments and sheet music from wind havoc.

Present in the audience was Mrs. W. V. Stolte of San Anselmo, to whom with her late public spirited husband, goes the credit for setting aside this lovely spot for community use.

Also to be commended are Homestead Valley Improvement club president Mrs. Kurt Schlesinger and chamber music committee chairman Mrs. Martin Goldschmidt for the careful planning and efficient execution of the many details, including free bus transportation to and from Mill Valley, that were entailed in this kind of venture.

Although more or less commotion caused by children at a family type gathering like this is to be expected, it is to be hoped that in future events it can be kept to fringe areas.

The city of St. Charles was the capital of Missouri when the state was admitted to the union in 1820. The original capitol building still stands on South Main Street.

Single-Family Homes High In Valuation

Single family residence comprise more than half the total percentage of Marin County assessed valuation, according to a report issued by the office of county assessor.

Of a total residential value aggregating 69.5 per cent, the single family type of residence accounts for 55.6 per cent. Multiple residential is 9 per cent and 4.9 per cent is made up of unimproved residential building sites.

Commercial and industrial properties account for only 14.9 per cent of Marin's property tax base for the current fiscal year, the report says.

Public utilities, which are assessed by the state rather than the county, amount to 10.5 per cent of the total.

The remainder is made up of a rural category including livestock, equipment and supplies yet aggregating only 4 per cent; 1 per cent for boats and airplanes; and a tiny miscellaneous category of only .1 per cent.

Slattery will be transferred to Grand Forks Air Force Base, N. Dak., where he will serve with the semi-automatic ground environment system unit.

Traffic was temporarily held up this morning in the 1100 block of Mission Avenue in San Rafael when this load of prefabricated beams, destined for use at the addition on St. Raphael's Church, was accidentally dumped in the street. The accident was caused by a faulty bunker pin on the lumber truck dolly which gave way, overturning the dolly with its load. Driver of the Standard Structures Inc. truck, Chester O. Madden of Windsor, was unhurt. (Independent-Journal photo)

One of the plane's four engines had been damaged Friday during an attack by a Katanga jet on the airport at Elizabethville. The plane was sitting on the field at the time.

The Rhodesian government said the plane carried a crew of five and nine passengers in all.

The one survivor was gravely injured. The ground rescue party took him to a hospital. Tshombe returned to Katanga after being informed of Hammarskjöld's death.

Youth, 16, Leads Police On Car Chase

A 16-year-old Petaluma youth was booked in the county juvenile hall last night after leading a California Highway Patrol sergeant on a chase through Novato streets with speeds reaching 80 miles an hour.

With him were two Novato boys who were released after they told Sgt. William H. Porter they had tried to talk the driver into stopping.

The chase began on Center Road when the youth's west-bound car failed to stop at the stop sign on Tamalpais Avenue. Sergeant Porter estimated the speed at this time at 40 miles per hour in a 25 mile-per-hour zone.

After chasing the youth through Novato streets, siren and red lights flashing, Sgt. Porter finally stopped the speeding youth on Novato Boulevard just as he turned off Simmons Lane.

The youth was cited for: seven counts of speeding; two counts of running stop signs, and six counts of improper turns.

His reason for leading Sergeant Porter on the reckless chase: "I didn't want to get another ticket."

Meanwhile, Novato Police Chief Roy McLaren reported his force was continuing a close check on drivers going to and from Novato High School, as the result of complaints of neighbors about speeding. He said 16 cars were stopped Friday, checked for safety equipment, and the drivers warned to observe the 25-mile limit. Others were stopped today with one driver cited for faulty equipment.

said. "I regret it deeply." "I had much esteem for Hammarskjöld. He did much for African countries. In the crisis between the Congo and me, I had confidence he would help find a solution."

Also reported aboard were three American citizens working for the United Nations. They were Dr. H. A. Weischoff, the U.N. director of political affairs; William Ranallo, Hammarskjöld's personal aide, and Vladimir Fabry, a Czech-born legal officer and naturalized U.S. citizen.

A Canadian woman was also reported aboard. She was Alice Lalonde of Montreal, private secretary of the chief of the U.N.'s Congo operation.

Three U.N. guards accompanying Hammarskjöld also were reported among the passengers.

Hammarskjöld's death came one day after the 13th anniversary of the death in action of Count Folke Bernadotte, also of Sweden, who was U.N. mediator in Palestine. Bernadotte was killed Sept. 17, 1948, in Jerusalem by Jewish terrorists while he was seeking to end Jewish-Arab hostilities.

Convicted Murderer Has Saved Two Lives

A San Quentin Prison convict, serving a life term for murder, has been credited with saving two lives.

Samuel C. D. Stonom Jr., 35-year-old convict who entered San Quentin from San Diego six years ago after pleading guilty to killing his wife, Dolores, has received his second commendation within a year for action that saved the lives of two men.

According to prison officials, Stonom was with the San Quentin camp crew at the Mile Fire in the Six Rivers National Forest in Humboldt County last month when a fire fighter, Harold Juedes, 28, of Seattle, was carried unconscious from a ridge. No doctor being available, Stonom, who was making sandwiches for the men on the fire line, fashioned a mask out of a paper cup and was about to administer welding oxygen—the only oxygen available, when Juedes stopped breathing.

Stonom immediately applied artificial breathing until Juedes' heart started beating once more. Then with his crude and makeshift gear, he administered the welding oxygen. During a dangerous four-mile ride over a narrow logging road to reach the nearest hospital, Juedes again stopped breathing. Stonom once more applied artificial respiration until Juedes' breathing was restored.

In the previous incident, prison records disclose that Stonom, while on duty in the San Quentin Hospital wards, came to the rescue of an unidentified inmate who was close to death from a rare combination of ailments. On his own initiative, Stonom called Dr. J. C. Bettinger, internist, at his home, received medical instructions over the telephone and administered aid to the patient until the doctor's arrival. Bettinger credited Stonom with saving the inmate's life.

efforts and now was claiming them as his own victories. "We are in a wonderful position to take over in California," McCarthy told 350 persons at the banquet. "Let's not push it down the drain with disunity. If we tell the truth, we will win."

An effort at unifying all Republican volunteer organizations under the Republican Assembly was soundly defeated. Major opposition came from the California Federation of Republican Women, nearly four times as large as the CRA which objected to being absorbed.

Resolutions committee members wrangled until 3 a.m. Sunday morning on a series of proposals which finally called for out-lawing of the Communist Party nationally and in California, condemned the Kennedy administration for allowing "uncensored Communist propaganda in this country, and urging creation of a congressional committee to investigate trade with communist countries.

Eighty-seven CRA members, including two from Marin County, were named to seven candidate and fact finding subcommittees. Assemblyman William Bagley was named on the U. S. Senator unit, and Jean De Muth of San Anselmo to the Attorney General subcommittee.

Other Marinites who attended the three day conclave included E. Warren McGuire of Fairfax, Mrs. Lee Sherry of San Anselmo and Raymond Shone of San Rafael.

Trial Of Rogers Is Postponed

Second trial of Robert Burdett Rogers on a charge of murder of his wife was postponed today until Sept. 29 because one of his Southern California attorneys said he could not be present today in Marin Superior Court.

Rogers, 42-year-old San Gabriel contractor, was convicted of murder of his estranged wife, Bertie, in her San Rafael home and sentenced to five years to life in prison. However, in July the State Supreme Court set aside the conviction and ordered that Rogers be given a new trial.

He was held without bail in Marin County Jail to await the new trial date.

He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry F. Sears of Williamstown, Mass.; a daughter, Mrs. Ann Crocker of Santa Monica; a brother, Henry Sears of Williamstown; a sister, Mrs. Frederick E. Sears Jr. of West Newton, Mass., and one grandson.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday afternoon at a time to be set later, at the Chapel of the Hills, San Anselmo, with interment at Mount Tamalpais Cemetery.

W. R. SUTHERLAND

Funeral services will be held tomorrow for Walter Robert Sutherland of Mill Valley, who died Saturday after a heart attack he suffered while shopping in Corte Madera.

Sutherland was taken to his home after the attack. He had another attack and was taken by ambulance to Marin General Hospital where he was dead on arrival.

Sutherland, 47, had lived 12 years in Mill Valley at 72 Valley Circle. He had worked 21 years as a claims officer in the Judge Advocate Division with the Army at Fort Mason, San Francisco.

A native of Honolulu, Sutherland had lived in various parts of the United States, traveling with his late father,

New Moisturizing Colonaids Stops CONSTIPATION DUE TO DEHYDRATION

without gag, bloat or gripe

Most constipation is caused by what doctors call a "thrifty" colon that loses so much moisture that its contents become so dry they block the bowel; so shrunken they fail to stimulate the urge to purge that propels and expels waste from your body. To regain normal regularity, the dry, shrunken contents of your colon which now block your bowel must be moistened. Second, bulk must be brought to S-T-R-E-T-C-H STIMULATE colon to action; to a normal urge to purge. And, of all laxatives, only new COLONALIDS possesses its great moistening capacity plus its stretch-stimulating bulk. So effective it

Neck Injuries Can Be Serious

by Dr. Robert W. Pearce

A Detroit doctor says cars should be equipped with headrests. He states a driver's head is likely to snap back and cause a neck injury if the car is struck from the rear.

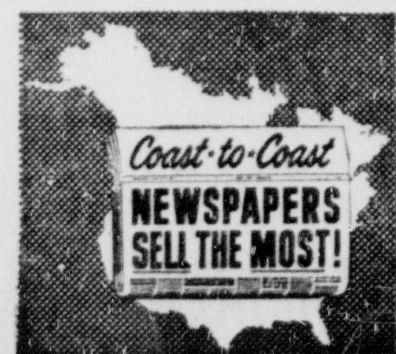

Neck injuries often are dismissed too lightly. The slight stiffness in the neck you may notice after a fall or a minor accident can develop into serious trouble.

Your neck has seven of the twenty-four bones or vertebrae of the spine. A fall or accident that snaps your neck may push one of the vertebrae out of line. This means that your spine will be out of line and the misaligned vertebrae are likely to pinch nerves leading to cells, muscles and organs. Any part of your body can break down when this happens. All parts of the body must receive vital nerve impulses from the brain to function properly. A lack of proper nerve impulses can cause almost any sickness you can name.

For safety, be examined by a chiropractor for any stiffness or tenderness of the neck or back.

Dr. R. W. Pearce, D.C., practices the Palmer Method. His office is at 1628 Fifth Ave., San Rafael, GL 3-6201. (Adv)

Sleepy Hollow Youth Liked Costa Rica

Four weeks with a Costa Rican family during the summer gave John McVickar, 18-year-old Experimenter in International Living, "the most wonderful and exciting experience one could have in a friendly and enchanting land."

John, Sir Francis Drake High School graduate and son of Dr. and Mrs. Malcolm H. McVickar of 1360 Butterfield Road, Sleepy Hollow, returned home last week in time to unpack, pack and depart again for Forest Grove, Ore., where he is attending Pacific University.

While in Costa Rica, John's time was spent with his foster family, Senor and Senora Alberto G. Escalante and their four children, Luis Diego, 17; Sylvia, 16; Lucila, 11 and Maria, 7.

NEAR VOLCANO
Senor Escalante is the owner of a coffee plantation near a partially dormant volcano in the hamlet of Turrialba. John's time was spent between the plantation and the family home in San Jose, the country's capital. Senora Escalante, John said, was educated at Dominican Convent in San Rafael.

"From the air, Costa Rica appears much the same as any Central American country—patch-work fields green the year round," John said. "But there the resemblance ends."

"The country has held free elections since 1821 and proudly claims the distinction of having more teachers than soldiers."

The Marin County youth was impressed with the fact that Costa Rica has a literacy rate of 87 per cent—reportedly the highest in the world.

NO BEGGARS
"One sees no beggars," he said, explaining that a low degree of mechanization means employment for almost the entire population on farms.

A highlight of his trip was a week of indoctrination at Bogota, Colombia, with the other Experimenters from the United States. The introduction to the countries included a week of classes at the Instituto Colombiano de Especialization Technica En El Exterior as well as field trips and entertainment.

"The leading Latin American educators spoke to us on the politics, history and culture of their countries," he said.

Costa Rica's teen-agers, he found, dance, play basketball and live much like the American students.

A fluent Spanish speaker, John had travelled through 48 states and last year spent a month in Mexico.

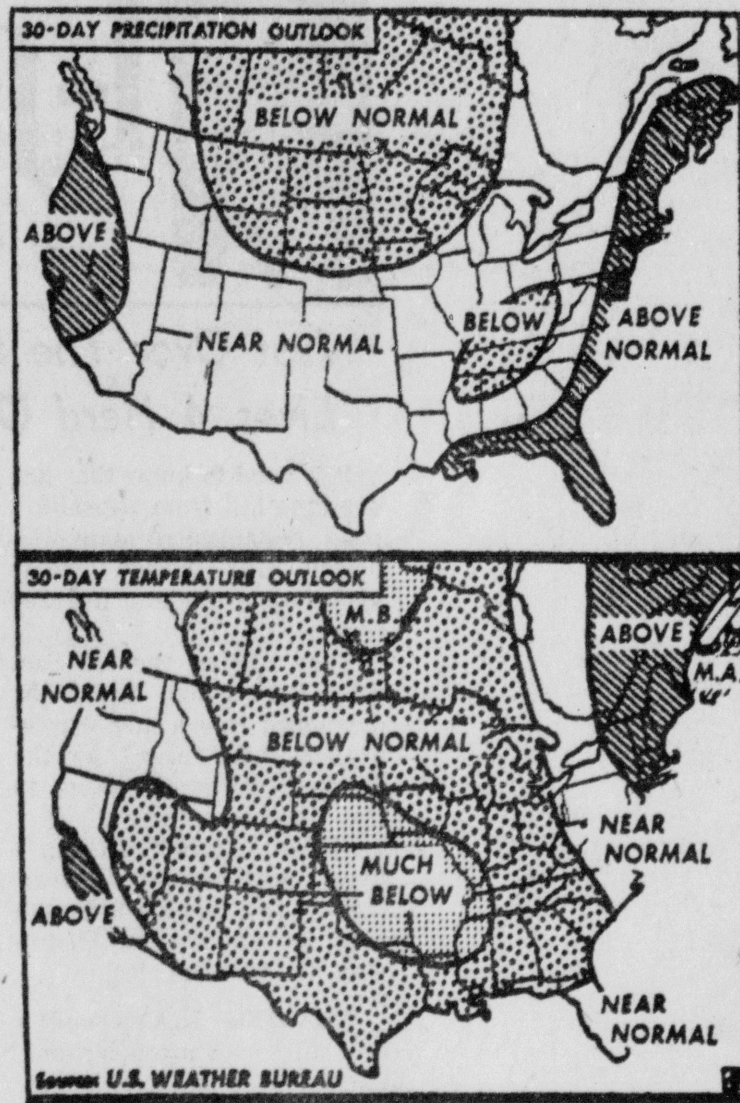

The young man's reaction to the country he visited was not untypical of all the Experimenters returning home.

"Someday I'm going back," he said with assurance.

House Design Court Fight Round Ends

F.M.H. Co. of San Anselmo Friday won the first round in the court fight to determine whether it is using another company's house design to build a home in San Rafael.

Clyde Building Associates Inc. of San Anselmo is suing F.M.H. Co., alleging that a house design developed by Clyde is being used for a home on Vista Way in San Rafael. Clyde asked Marin Superior Court for a preliminary injunction to stop construction on the house.

Judge Joseph G. Wilson yesterday denied the preliminary injunction, which in effect means that F.M.H. may continue building the home. The main trial to determine whether Clyde has been damaged is still pending.

Partners in F.M.H. Co. are Charles Huddleston, Robert Findley, Wayne Huddleston and Gene Fardin. They are represented by attorneys William Corrigan and C. John Bernt.

Clyde Building Associates asserts that the Huddlestons and Findley formerly worked for Clyde, but when they left to form their own building company, they took one of the house designs.

F.M.H. denied this and filed a cross-complaint, accusing Clyde of defaming the good name of F.M.H. Co.

14 In Marin Become Citizens Of U.S.

Edgar Carl Leuthold, 62, and his wife, Edith Leuthold, 52, of 526 Comstock Drive, Tiburon, were among 14 Marin County residents who became naturalized United States citizens during August.

The couple, married 33 years ago in Bavaria, came to Marin from West Germany five years ago, joining their son, Herman Leuthold, a stockbroker of 911 Butterfield Road, Sleepy Hollow, who was naturalized three years ago.

Another son, Peter, is serving with the U.S. Air Force in Germany. A daughter, Roswitha, came to the United States four years ago on a Fullbright scholarship, studying at Smith College in Southampton, Mass., and Harvard Business School in Cambridge, Mass. She was in Marin in 1958 and now lives in Beverly Hills.

Leuthold was an attorney in his native country but gave up law on coming to America. "There we practice Roman law; here it is English law," he explained. "It would mean I would have to start all over, and with my language difficulty I cannot do that."

He studied designing in 1956 and 1957 through the University of California Extension program and now works as a designer with Alexander Boone, San Francisco consulting engineer. His wife is employed as a clerk with Firemen's Fund Insurance Co. in San Francisco.

Other Marin residents taking the oath of allegiance last month were:

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur D. Caruzzi of 62 Bay Vista Drive, Mill Valley; Jan S. Nacklicki, 2 Santa Cruz Avenue, San Anselmo; Joan M. Sloan, 16 Acacia Avenue, Kentfield; Edward Karp, 328 William Avenue, Larkspur; Viola Bengston, 156 Maestro Road, Novato.

Margaretha S. Nettel, 1307 Leafwood Drive, Novato; Harry Webster, 104 Melrose Avenue, Mill Valley; Joan E. Kett, 85 Helens Lane, Mill Valley; Michael W. Kuimelis, Hilgirt Drive, Ross; Elfrieda M. Dovell, 18 Birch Avenue, Corte Madera; and Yuriko H. Gregory, 892 San Jose Boulevard, Novato.

Window Products Firm In San Rafael Sign Of Business Opportunities

Significant of possible new business opportunities in the county is the case of Standard Window Products, 97½ Louise Street, San Rafael, which has just completed its first month of operation in Marin.

The firm previously had its main office and plant in Los Angeles—now does all assembly work here which is closer to the volume of potential sales. Manufactured is "Primary Window," an exclusive, patented, double-hung, aluminum installation, licensed by Alcoa Aluminum in Akron, Ohio (Kaiser subsidiary) to Al Silver of Lucas Valley and Al Schenker of Los Angeles for six of the western states. Silver, former production foreman for Fairchild Semiconductor Corp., conducts the operation here; Schenker remains in Los Angeles in charge of Southern California sales.

Distribution in Marin is handled exclusively through San Rafael Glass and Paint Co., Goodman Building Supply, San Rafael and Mill Valley, Fairfax Lumber Co. and Western Sales and Manufacturing Co., San Rafael. Other heavy users are Hamilton Air Force Base, Montgomery Ward and Co. and Eichler Homes.

Special features of Primary Window, says Silver, are stock fittings to any dimensions—standard or otherwise, self-locking and removable panes for cleaning, easy installations and non-sticking. Silver carries assembly components for 460 different sizes in stock; can quickly assemble others and make three-day local deliveries. Biggest sales so far have been in the replacement field but new construction is rapidly picking up the habit.

Standard Window will maintain four people in production in San Rafael; hopes to zoom

Western States sales to a million dollars per year.

TWO YEARS AGO a compact was something to fit in a lady's purse—today the term is more likely to denote something that slips into a parking space just as easily. Every third car off 1961 American assembly lines was a compact and the percentage may run higher in the next year.

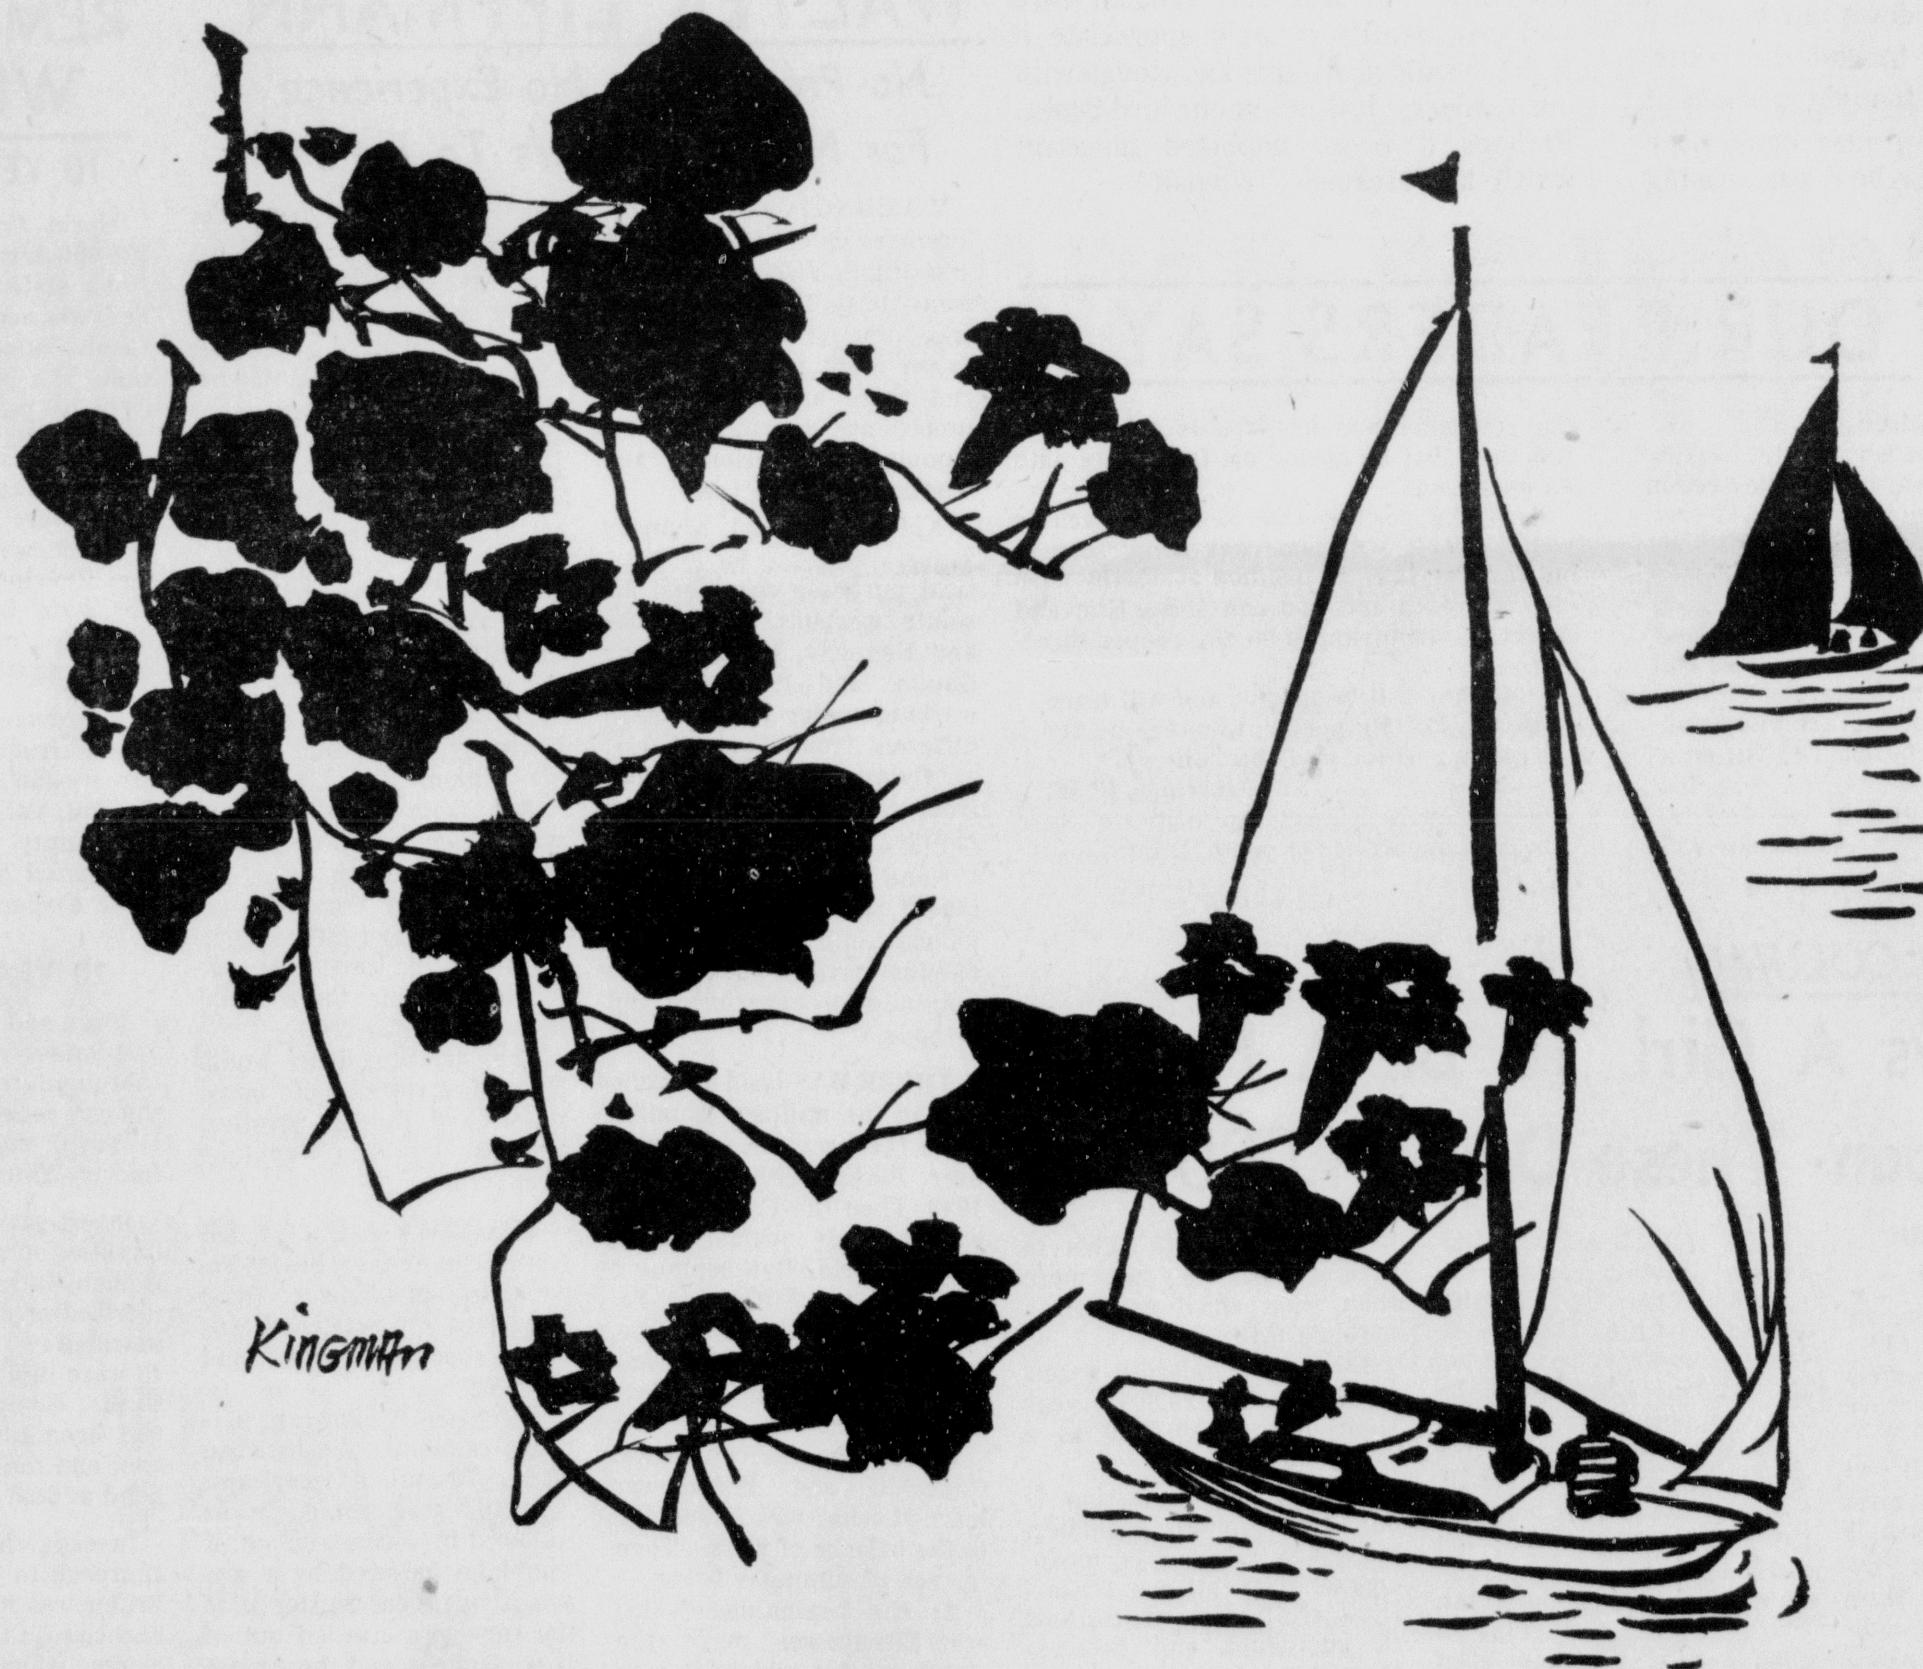

The new Comet for 1962—now designated the Mercury Comet—will be introduced at E. Bugna, San Rafael and Larry Brink Motors, Mill Valley showrooms Sept. 29. There are nine entries in the standard and custom series.

Style changes include two circular tail-lights on each side (triple clusters on the S-22), new rear fenders tapered downward, aluminum grille, easier-to-read instrument cluster and with improved illumination.

Newly developed two-ply tires are standard equipment, radiator coolant is factory-installed, oil change cycle has been extended to 6,000 miles—fuel filter to 30,000. Improved carburetion is featured in six-cylinder engines.

Dimensions are much the same, though sedans and station wagons look larger. Wagons are actually shorter than sedans.

A hunk of cedar found imbedded in gravel during an excavation in eastern Washington is estimated to be 14 million years old.

Here's how we manage four vacations every month

"We used to have the world's dullest weekends. Now every weekend is a vacation for the whole family. The difference is a symphony of teak, brass and canvas—our spanking new boat! She's part of the Big Plan which Kathryn and I started several years ago. Another part of it is the house we enjoy so. And the trust fund for putting our boys through college.

"Every time we step aboard our new boat I'm glad we put our Big Plan to work."

The plan didn't seem so big at the time. In fact, it began with an unpleasant situation. Roy and Kathryn were living from one paycheck to the next. They came to Crocker-Anglo for a loan to pay off a stack of bills.

After the loan was repaid, they decided to keep right on making the monthly payments—but to themselves, in care of a C-A savings account.

Thanks to these savings, they were ready when Roy was offered the option to buy a little stock in the company where he worked.

As the company grew, the stock increased in value. Roy talked it over with Crocker-Anglo's investment department and decided to buy even more.

He was preparing for the next step in the Big Plan. Sooner or later, he'd have the chance to buy a branch-office franchise from his company. The chance came.

Crocker-Anglo is still part of that Big Plan. Just the other day Roy called our international banking people for advice about some export business he's been offered.

Helping people use their bank for all it's worth is the most satisfying part of our job. It has a way of turning small plans into Big ones...and these into sweet success. Try us.

Novato, All Marin, Poorer Because Bob Merritt Died

Sometimes it doesn't take long for a man to become a valuable and versatile member of a community, so much so that when he is unexpectedly taken away, he leaves an obvious void in more than one organization.

Thus it was when Robert F. Merritt, secretary-manager of Novato Chamber of Commerce, was stricken with a heart attack and died last week. In the few days short of two years that he had been chamber manager, he had woven an organization capable of facing the tremendous job of such a group in a newly created city.

But it was not just in chamber of commerce work that Bob Merritt was effective. He was active in his church, in service clubs and lodges besides keeping busy with his own writings.

Of course all this wasn't accomplished in just the two years since he retired from the Air Force as a lieutenant colonel. He was already a part of Novato long before he stepped out of service.

He brought to the city, besides friendliness, good humor, and an organizing ability, a background as a newspaperman. He had been a daily newspaper editor and had worked for both major wire services. In the service he had served in Cuba and for six years on Okinawa.

And all of this had been accomplished in just 58 years.

Novato is poorer because of the passing of Bob Merritt, and so is all of Marin County.

Seen The Whatsit Bird?

It was a big bird—the biggest pheasant we have ever seen, if indeed it was a pheasant. Its general contour was that of a heavyset pheasant, as was its stately walk and proud, erect bearing.

This Whatsit Bird came walking, calm as you please, down our backyard path from the hill behind the house. At first glance we thought perhaps it was a grouse, but grouse don't have long pointed tails. Maybe it was a young turkey. But no. That wasn't right either.

Its plumage was a grayish tan on head and chest, while its back and wings were barred black and white like a Barred Rock chicken.

If anyone in the Larkspur-Kentfield-Ross area has seen this Whatsit Bird and can identify it, we'd appreciate it if they would share this knowledge with our readers. It is not in our bird books. Perhaps it is an imported pheasant which has escaped. Whatsit?

YOUNGSTER STEERS BUS

A driverless bus began slowly backing down an incline toward an intersection crowded with school children when a 12-year-old boy spotted it.

He raced to the lumbering vehicle, hopped inside and jammed on the brakes. They didn't work. A half block from the busy crossing he pulled on the steering wheel and diverted the bus from its dangerous course.

The bus bumped over the curb and crashed into the steps of a church. The 7th grader stepped out unharmed.

It was later learned that a friend of the family is a bus driver who sometimes took the youngster and his friends on rides. It was then that he gained his familiarity with its operation.

Anything positive that you can teach to young people will some day bring surprising results. God has instilled a healthy curiosity in youth and you can serve Him and others by channeling it in the proper direction.

"If they will be taught, and will learn the ways of My people, to swear by My Name . . . they shall be built up." (Jeremiah 12:16)

It Pays A Girl To Be A Hostess In Japan These Days—1,000 Yen

By KENNETH ISHII
(For Hal Boyle)

TOKYO (P)—So, having enjoyed the company of a charming nightclub hostess for an hour or so, you wave for the bill.

It looks all right until you get to an item that says: Hostess charge—1,000 yen.

"What!," you might exclaim, outraged at being made to hand over the equivalent of $2.77 for the pleasure of 60 minutes of her company.

Sure you danced with her, bought her a couple of drinks. And she probably turned on the charm—the more charming because of the broken English—to inflate your masculine ego.

Besides, it didn't seem like 60 minutes. It seemed like 10.

That's the whole point. If that's the way you felt, she did her job well.

At 1,000 yen an hour, the charge at the top clubs, a good hostess averages 5,000 yen an evening, which with days off comes to 130,000 yen —$361—a month. This in turn is about 10 times more than what she'd earn in a daytime office job.

By U.S. standards, a secretary drawing $3,600 a year could expect $36,000 as a nightclub hostess.

Though the profession is one that invites prejudice, more and more girls, emancipated from pre-war restrictions, are finding hostess jobs in nightclubs and cabarets throughout Japan.

Some do it for the quick money—though the temptation for high living keeps only a few from saving enough to open up that dreamed of bar or coffee shop.

Some become hostesses for fun and adventure though disillusionment usually sets in quickly.

But most take on the profession from the simple need to make a living. That tearful line about having to support an invalid mother, or pay for a brother's education, isn't always bunk.

"No experience necessary, proclaim the newspaper ads for hostesses. But any seasoned girl will tell you it's a tough job that calls for an infinite supply of charm, patience—and quick thinking.

SO SIX months later you'll go back to the same nightclub, and out of the milling humanity a happy voice will sing out:

"Hello! Long time no see!"

MAYBE YOU don't remember, but she does. Her job depends on it. It's the same girl responsible for that outraged comment you've now forgotten about.

Anyway, what's another thousand yen or two?

No Precedents, No Experience For Nuclear Powers To Follow

WASHINGTON—Never before have chiefs of state been in a situation like that in Germany today. This was the first encounter on vital issues between great nuclear powers, and there are no historical precedents, there is no accumulated experience and wisdom, to guide them.

Khrushchev and Kennedy possess what are for all practical purposes equal and absolute weapons. Khrushchev and Kennedy, Macmillan, de Gaulle, and Adenauer are working under conditions as different from World War II as flying a jet is different from running a steam locomotive.

None of them has been taught how to conduct diplomacy in a nuclear age. All of them have to guess and to improvise, to experiment and to hope.

THERE HAS been a revolution in the military situation since the previous encounter over Berlin with Stalin in 1948. Then the United States was the only nuclear power in the world. But beginning with the late 'Fifties, the Soviet Union with its nuclear weapons and its rockets has become an equal nuclear power.

During the critical Fifties, Churchill and Eisenhower learned what was happening to the balance of power. Then the era of summitry began.

At the beginning of this era Eisenhower made the statement for which, it may well be, he will be remembered the longest. It was not sentimentality, idealism, or pacifism, but the grim truth about the hydrogen bomb which caused President Eisenhower to say that there is no longer any "alternative to peace."

MODERN WEAPONS have not merely magnified and multiplied the violence of war. They have revolutionized the nature of war by in-roducing into it a new order of violence.

Always until now, war and threat of war, whether aggressive or defensive, were usable instruments for the national purpose. They were usable because wars could still be won or lost.

In the pre-nuclear wars, the victorious power was an organized state which could impose its will on the vanquished. The damage, though great, was not irreparable, as we know from the recovery after World War II of West Germany, Japan, and the Soviet Union.

But from a full nuclear war, which might well mean a hundred million dead, the devastation of the great urban centers, and the contamination of the earth, the water, and the air, there would be no such recovery.

The damage done would be mutual, there would be no victor, and for all practical purposes the ruin would be irreparable.

AMERICAN NUCLEAR power can reduce Soviet society to smoldering ruins and leave the wretched survivors shocked, starving, and diseased.

The Soviet Union can, it is coolly estimated, kill between 30 and 70 million Americans.

Such a war would not be followed by reconstruction. It would be followed by a savage struggle for existence as the survivors crawled out of their shelters, and the American republic would be replaced by a stringent military dictatorship trying to keep some kind of order among the desperate survivors.

(TOMORROW: The Breaking Point.)

REMEMBER WHEN?

10 YEARS AGO

Marin County's check for $26,000 for purchase of land for a state park near Inverness was accepted by the California State Park Commission. The Marin contribution is to be part of the price of Tomales Bay State Park.

San Rafael "right turn go" signs were taken down because it was found the city was allowing an illegality under state law by permitting disregard of stop signs if a driver wanted to turn right.

Improvement of Wolfe Grade from San Rafael's D Street, and of Miller Avenue in Mill Valley were assured by county supervisors who authorized immediate action after earlier opposition.

20 YEARS AGO

Third and Second Streets in San Rafael were made arterial thoroughfares by action of the city council. Eighteen "No U Turn" signs were authorized for Fourth Street.

Investigation into fog-light facilities on approaches to the Golden Gate Bridge was instituted after an auto-bus crash in which two persons died and 19 were injured on the Waldo Grade. Sodium vapor lights had been turned off at 5:01 a.m. and the car and bus collided at 6:50 a.m.

Investigation of the Waldo approach to the Golden Gate Bridge was started by the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce, which thinks a four-lane divided highway should be provided.

Construction was reported due soon on a $125,000 underpass from Lincoln Avenue to Grand Avenue along Linden Avenue in San Rafael.

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

A millionaire, recalling the days when he was just beginning to claw his way up the ladder, mused, "Once I was living in California, while my parents were still in Michigan. I had just saved enough money to buy myself a bicycle when I heard my mother was sick. I jumped on my bike and pedaled all the way back to Michigan, only to be told that California air was the one thing that could save my mother's life.

"Gentlemen, I was equal to the occasion. I carted my bicycle over to my mother's bed, let the California air out of the tires—and she lived to the ripe old age of 96."

The editor of a book publishing house rashly took his hungry girl friend to one of the most expensive restaurants in town. Noting that he turned deathly pale when the check was presented to him, she asked, "What's the matter Tom? You look sick." "I am," he told her grimly. "It must be something you ate."

Just Over The Hill From Sausalito Lives A Herd Of 250 Guernseys

It is good to know that just over the hill from Sausalito's posh restaurants, many-windowed cliff houses, artists and shoppe tenders, live 250 cows.

They live on the old Sam Silva Ranch, one day to be developed into a model community, now leased by the Boyd Stewarts of Olema to run their Guernseys.

Blonde, Rachel Brown, a lively grandmother, is overseer of the ranch where she lives in an old bunkhouse with her husband, Bill.

WEARING JEANS and a cow shirt with many buttons, Rachel loves animals, is now "breaking in" a four-year-old colt.

She took us around the ranch in a horseless carriage, though she usually goes by horse. A deer leaped across the fire road as we climbed. Looking down we could see the dark hills ringing the broken-down barn, bull pens, milking sheds and bunkhouse. Out beyond there was a silver chunk of sea.

Three times we stopped to open gates and cross cattle guards. Cow droppings dotted the dirt road.

Rachel said she was raised on a farm in Iowa and learned early to move hay, milk cows and ride horses. She lived in Marin City for several years before moving to the ranch 18 months ago.

HERE, SHE SAID, so close to San Francisco that the white city looms up through almost every other hill, there is a yearly roundup. Cows are branded, run through a chute where they are sprayed for ticks and flies, and blood tests are taken.

There is a check made weekly for "springers," cows that might be calving in two or three weeks. These cows go to Olema.

We climbed Wolf's Back. "This where my goat, Tammy, was for two months," Rachel said. "He was wild and he got pretty skinny." She said she bought the goat and, being unused to people, he ran away. One day he wandered onto Manuel Lopez' place in Tennessee Valley. He was caught and is now as tame as you please.

A jackrabbit bobbed up before the headlights, ran along the road and disappeared. Funny hills, we thought. Brown, splashes of green. A r m y installations. KQED radio station. San Francisco. Old hay barn, office with old desk of Sam Silva's still sitting there. We waited while some cows got out of the way.

We went into the bunkhouse and met Bill, a Marin City fireman, who said, "The coffee pot is always on."

The bunkhouse has four bunkrooms, bunks of which visiting grandchildren sometimes fall out of, Rachel said. We met Cleo, the German Shepherd; Tong, the cat.

RACHEL SAID she fixes fences sometimes and "we do our own de-horning here." We asked if she takes part in that and she said, "Sure. I wouldn't miss it for anything."

Rachel is a member of the Tamalpais Trail Riders, but when we asked Bill if he rides he answered, "No, I haven't a horse here slow enough for me."

Though dark, we were invited to see Pancho, the burro Rachel bought from a Petaluma "glue factory." We went out by flashlight. Tong followed. So did Cleo.

Soon we were surrounded by animals. There was the once-wild blue goat. Sonny, the horse, sniffed us and another horse. Rachel asked Bill to give Poncho a push so he would come out from behind the barn. "He won't come," said Bill.

IT WAS DECIDED to walk around the barn and see him. We started walking, animals following all around us, and then Bill exclaimed, "There's Poncho behind us."

He was coming to see what we were looking for.

"Burros are smarter than horses," Rachel said. "You can't get them to do what they don't want to do." Big-eared Poncho sniffed us. We sniffed Poncho. We took some more sniffs of the air and left the ranch. It's good to know about Poncho and those cows.

Curious Letter Signed With Name Of Governor Blasts Unfair Press

somewhat curious letter, apparently circulated to service clubs, senior citizen groups, business and professional societies, labor organizations, women's clubs and Democratic clubs, asks these organizations to apply for speakers on a state-wide basis, from the Democratic Co-Ordinating Committee, which is operated by one Don Bradley, prominent in Democratic circles for some time. A similar call to Los Angeles headquarters elicited no information, except that the address was a Democratic organization and that it is operating a speakers bureau.

A telephone call to the San Francisco number listed by the Speakers Bureau elicited the information that the address was the headquarters of the Democratic Co-Ordinating Committee, which is operated by one Don Bradley, prominent in Democratic circles for some time. A similar call to Los Angeles headquarters elicited no information, except that the address was a Democratic organization and that it is operating a speakers bureau.

IN SAN FRANCISCO, advice was given that a few legislators were available to take speaking engagements.

The question, of course, is whether the public can expect anything from the Democratic organization's speakers bureau other than the salve which usually is spread by politicians anxious to perpetuate their office tenure. Or, as the old saying goes, whether the Democratic organization is attempting to make a silk purse out of a sow's ear.

TO BE FAIR, it is true the Brown administration has effected some accomplishments in the past two and a half years. Among these accomplishments have been increases in taxes, higher give-away programs under unemployment and disability insurance, increases in the unemployment tax on business, and establishment of the fair employment practices commission, which applies the force of state law to badger business into hiring people it may not want to hire.

THE CURIOUS part of the letter is that Governor Brown, when asked by Capitol News Service if he had written it and signed it, said:

"I did not see the letter and it's not my signature!"

Asked if he felt the administration is not getting fair treatment from the press, the governor said:

"I do not feel the story of this administration has been

Brodie Glitters In 49er 35-3 Romp Over Redskins

Fires Four Aerials For TDs

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The San Francisco 49ers unlimbered their shotgun offense at Kezar Stadium yesterday, and peppered the Washington Redskins, 35 to 3.

It was hard to find fault with the defensive team which held the Redskins to 37 yards rushing and 98 passing. But coach Red Hickey may oil up his shotgun offense a little. He's not likely to forget that what appeared to be a San Francisco powerhouse was operating against a team with 14 consecutive losses.

RECORD TIED

Quarterback John Brodie fired four touchdown passes to tie a 49er record set by Y.A. Tittle in 1953. And he completed 16 of 22 passes for 237 yards, with one interception.

Monte Stickles was the leading pass receiver, snagging seven for 116 yards and two TDs. Clyde Conner grabbed five for 63 yards and one TD, while J. D. Smith scored on the fourth aerial. He also scored on a short plunge.

The shotgun misfired when second string quarterback Bill Killmer took over in the last quarter. He started off with three consecutive completed passes but then bogged down.

Killmer found himself eating the ball as the Redskins linebackers stormed through. However, he completed six out of nine passes, with two interceptions.

GREEN BAY NEXT

The San Francisco 49ers take on Green Bay in Wisconsin next Sunday.

For coach Hickey, yesterday's game was justification of his belief that Brodie could carry the load this fall as his first string quarterback. It was one of the former Stanford flash's finest games in 49er uniform. Said Hickey after the game: "I hope there is no doubt in anybody's mind about Brodie after that performance. I have never had any doubts about him myself, but he really came of age today."

Linebacker Bob Harrison was a defensive standout for the winners.

Mrs. Schallock Captures Trophy

Mrs. Arthur Schallock, wife of the former big league baseball pitcher and quite an athlete herself, turned in the low net score at the Mill Valley Golf Course Friday and won the Sabella trophy for September.

Her score was 85-22-63.

Low gross score honors went to Mrs. George Prydz with a 78.

Low net scores by classes:
Class A: Mrs. Norman Green, 90-23-67, and Mrs. Leland Duffield, 91-21-70.

Class B: Mrs. W. B. Smillie, 97-25-72, and Mrs. J. J. Hurley 102-23-74.

Class C: Mrs. Joseph Wittenmeier, 96-32-64, and Mrs. Hugh Richardson, 96-30-66.

Fred Mack Stars For Merchants

Fred Mack was the key man yesterday as the Mill Valley Merchants edged out Hunters Point, the San Francisco AAA champs, 15-14 in a free-scoring ball game played on the Optimists Field at Mill Valley's Project 17.

Mack went in as relief pitcher after the visitors had scored 12 of their runs and was credited with the win.

And it was his double, one of three hits he got during the day, that came with the bases loaded in the ninth to drive home the winning runs.

First College Elevens Go Into Action

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The sleeping giants of college football are awakening.

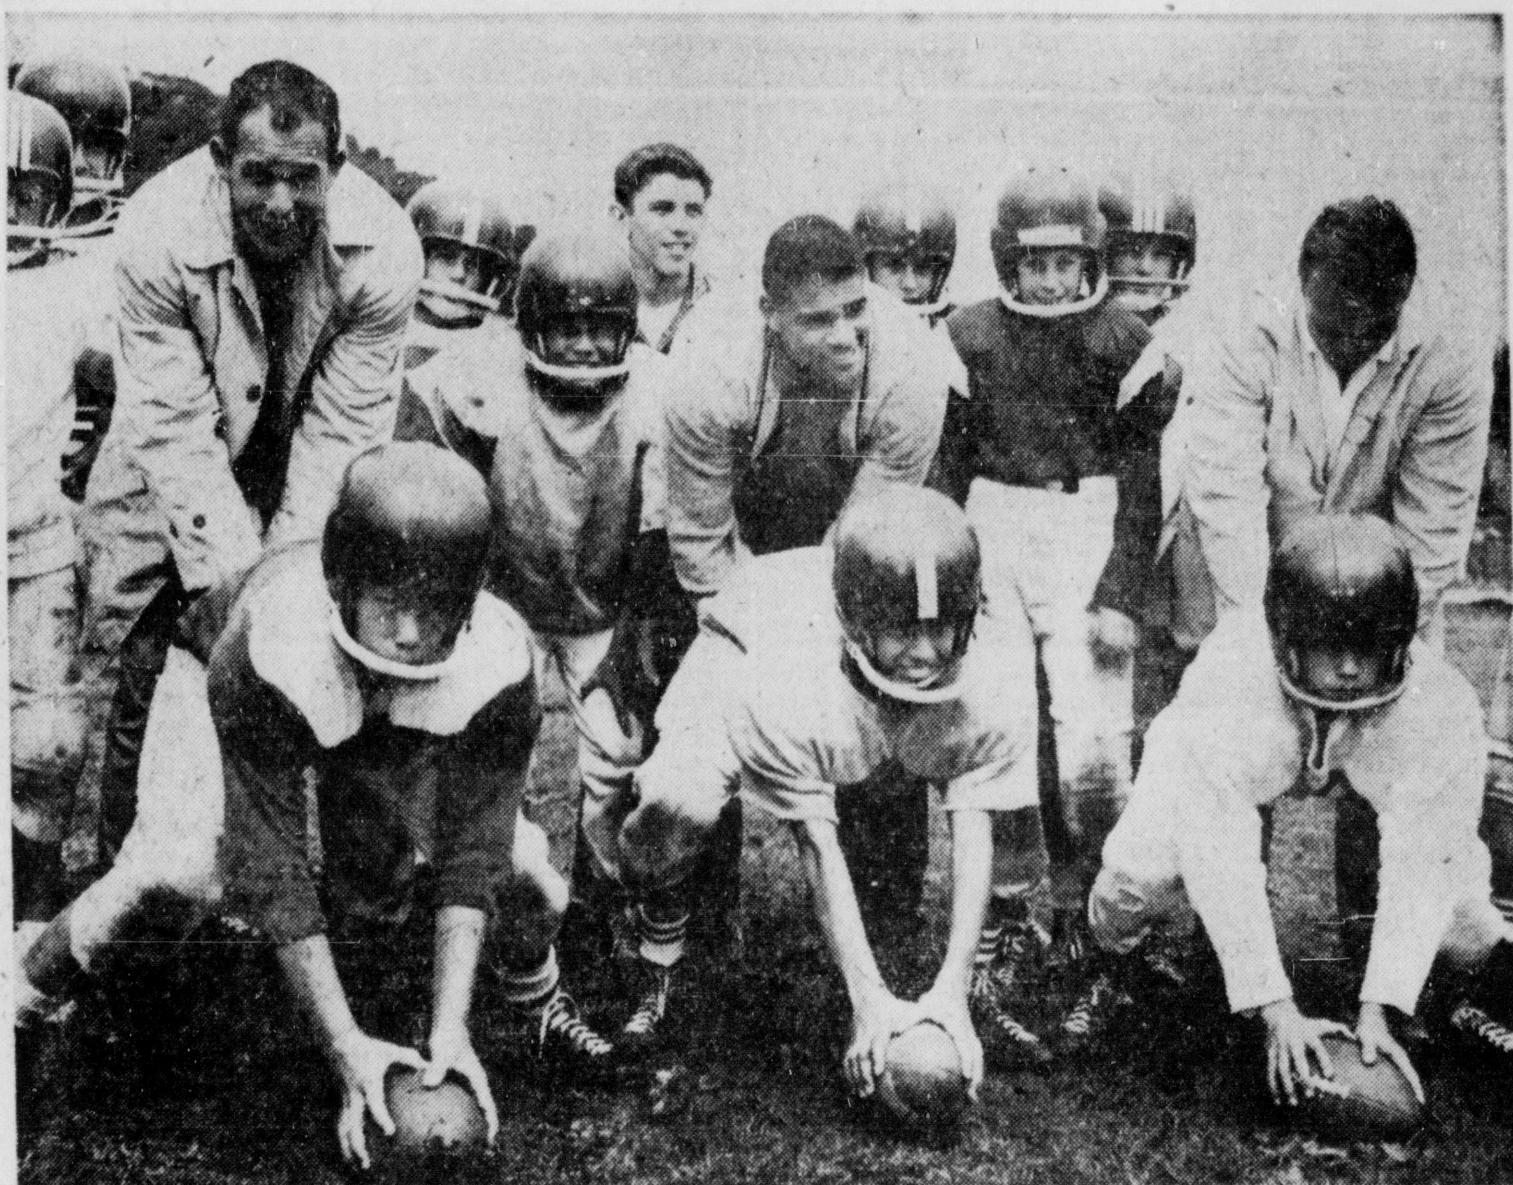

A sprinkling of teams got into action Saturday with Pitt defeating Miami 10 to 7 in the first of the weekly NCAA TV games.

The Orange Bowl was a quagmire late in the fourth period when Fred Cox skipped around left end for 20 yards, then lateraled to Paul Martha who splashed 60 more yards for the winning touchdown. New Mexico State, which currently holds the longest winning streak of 16 among major teams, whipped Arizona State College of Flagstaff 56 to 6.

Richmond defeated West Virginia 35-26.

Other scores: Virginia Tech 20, William and Mary 6; Wyoming 29 Montana 0; Utah 40 Colorado State 0; Wichita 12 Toledo 7; Iowa State 21 Drake 0; Florida State 15 George Washington 7; Villanova 33, Miami of Ohio 0.

The real giants of college football begin to stir next Saturday when five teams in the running for national honors open their seasons. Alabama, Louisiana State, Penn State, Mississippi and Syracuse, all rated in the top ten.

A MIGHTY FORMIDABLE LINEUP

ore, and Bill Meredith. Picture was taken at Saturday's football clinic at Alberts Field at which the three 49ers plus a fourth, Bob St. Clair, passed along gridiron advice to some 400 young hopefuls. The event was sponsored by the Peter Pan Chapter of the Children's Home Society.

Academy Cadets Scrimmage With Marin Catholic Team

The San Rafael Military Academy Cadets and the Marin Catholic High School Wildcats, both of whom open their 1961 football schedules this coming weekend, got together for a bit of preliminary "head knocking" Saturday morning.

During the scrimmage session the Cadets outscored the "Cats," five touchdowns to one.

Backs Bill Freeman, Joe Heinz and Frank Blakemore led the scoring parade for the academy. Quarterback John Jones was a standout for Marin Catholic.

The Cadets travel to Cloverdale Friday for their '61 opener, to start at 8:30 p.m. Marin Catholic begins its campaign against Analy High at Kentfield Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

NOVATO HORNETS LOSE OPENER

Ball carrier Dennis McCormick of Novato is about to be dropped by three Sebastopol tacklers after gaining several yards in a left end sweep in the first quarter of the 1961 opener for both teams. Novato lost the

Mill Valley Runner Wins Dipsea Race

Top Team Honors To Marin

By DON KEOWN
A 23-year-old Mill Valley man, running under the Marin Athletic Club banner, was the winner of the 51st annual Dipsea race yesterday.

Phillip Smith, better known as a tennis player than as a distance runner, covered the distance from Mill Valley to Stinson Beach, 6.8 miles around the slopes of Mt. Tam, in an actual running time of 58.29 minutes. Given a 15-minute handicap head start over the "scratch runners" in the field, the slender Smith was first across the finish line.

Second was another Marin Athletic Club man, Stuart Sparling of Piedmont, who ran the distance in the actual running time of 51.39 minutes and had an eight minute handicap.

The fastest actual running time of the day was turned in by Darryl Beardall of Santa Rosa, one of the Marin Athletic Club's veterans and most consistent performers. He covered the 6.8 miles in 49:09.

Beardall's time plus his three minute handicap was good for a sixth place finish across the finish line. His time of 49:09 did not menace the Dipsea record of 47:22 set by Norman Bright in 1937, nor approach the fast 47:41 time turned in by last year's winner, Bob Hope of the Marin Athletic Club.

Sixty-one runners made the chase this year and all finished. And the event drew large crowds to both Mill Valley for the start and Stinson Beach for the finish. The weather was ideal.

Smith had been a spectator only at previous Dipseas, although he had been tempted to make the run. This year he decided to take the plunge. In workouts with coach Jim Imperiale's, Marin Athletic Club teams he showed promise from the outset, improved steadily, and reached his climax with yesterday's big win.

It was a tremendous day for Marin Athletic Club members. They took six of the first seven places and seven of the first ten. They easily defeated the San Francisco Athletic Club for the team trophy. It was the third straight year they had won the team championship, and a triumph next year will tie them with the Petaluma Spartans who hold the team record of four straight championships.

Walter Andrae of the San Francisco Athletic Club won the trophy for the best performance by a high schooler as he ran the distance in 55:24 and had a seven minute handicap.

OLDEST FINISHER—Victor Duran of Berkeley, running for the Marin Athletic Club, lopes in a few yards from the finish line in Stinson Beach. The athlete, at 64, was the race's oldest participant. It was his ninth running.

The first 20 finishers yesterday, their affiliation and actual running times:

First, Phillip Smith, Marin A.C.; second, Stuart Sparling, Marin A.C.; third, John Satti, San Francisco A.C. (59:39); fourth, Jack Kirk, Marin A.C. and the 1951 winner (59:46); fifth, John Barclay Adams, Marin A.C. (60:05); sixth, Darryl Beardall, Marin A.C.; seventh, John Weidinger, Marin A.C. (54:33); eighth, J. W. Jacobs, San Francisco A.C. (55:31); ninth, Wes Hildreth, Marin A.C. (50:55); tenth, Jack Snyder, San Francisco A.C. (55:57).

Eleventh, Michael Lynn, unattached (55:57); 12th, Walter Andrae, San Francisco A.C.; 13th, Tony Stratta, San Francisco A.C. (63:44); 14th, Marvin Stephens, Marin A.C. (57:09); 15th, Arnold Standly, Marin A.C. (57:31); 16th, Robert Van Keuren, Marin A.C. (56:47); 17th, Joe King, Santa Clara Youth Village (57:03); 18th, Jeff Fishback, unattached (50:22); 19th, Walter Jaquith Jr., unattached (58:29); and 20th, Kenneth Vasquez, San Francisco A.C. ## Surprises Galore In Pro Football

By ASSOCIATED PRESS
Something has gone wrong. The Cleveland Browns are the unanimous choice to win the National Football League's Eastern Conference crown... the defending champion Philadelphia Eagles are dead without their great quarterback Norm Van Brocklin... so are the St. Louis Cards without their great running duo, John David Crow and John Childress... and the Minnesota Vikings probably won't win a game, and the Dallas Cowboys may be lucky to get just one... and above all never trust a rookie in the NFL.

That was the word as late as noon yesterday before the League opened its 42nd season. Today the tune has changed.

The Philadelphia Eagles with Van Brocklin now coaching the new Minnesota entry broke Cleveland's bubble the first time out, 27-20. The Cards found that even with half an arm and a couple of adequate runners in Frank Mestnik and Mal Hammack, they had enough to upset the New York Giants 21-10.

The Vikings made the Chicago Bears look like the new team with a 37 to 13 victory in their first start while sophomore Dallas won its first game in 14 times in the NFL, 27 to 24 over Pittsburgh.

And still another mild surprise: the Detroit Lions upended Green Bay, defending Eastern Conference champs, 17 to 13, while Baltimore had to scrape to down Los Angeles 27 to 24. And San Francisco rolled over Washington 35-3.

In the American League, San Diego beat Oakland 44 to 0 and Buffalo upset New York 41 to 31 in the only games yesterday.

Pop Warner Football Under Way

The Mill Valley Indians and the Redwood Junior Giants were the only Marin teams in the four weekend games of Pop Warner League football to emerge victorious.

Mill Valley dumped Sebastopol 25 to 7 Saturday, and Redwood edged out the Terra Linda Trojans 13 to 7. In other contests, St. Vincent's of San Rafael went under 18 to 0 and the San Rafael Rangers were clobbered 34 to 0.

Yesterday's opening league game of the season at Kentfield was between San Rafael and Petaluma. For three quarters both teams were at each others throats, but no TDs resulted from all the action until the final period when Petaluma stacked up 35 points before the gun. San Rafael only came close to the Petaluma end zone, never in it.

The second game at Kentfield was between Terra Linda and the Giants. Pete Bricca of the Giants exploded around his own left end the second play of the game for an 85-yard TD run. Tom Cather ran the PAT.

The second Giant tally came when the Trojans had to give up the ball after a fourth down at the Giant eight. In two plays Dan Salato was off and ripped for a 92 yard touchdown run. The Trojans scored in the second half when Dave Beacon went over tackle from seven yards out.

Willits' touchdowns against St. Vincent's yesterday came on a 30-yard pass play in the first quarter, on a recovered fumble and 40 yard run in the second period and after a sustained drive in the final quarter on a short TD run.

St. Vincent's played hard and defended well, but lacked the offensive blocking to set off their fast backs Ricky Valocik and Terry Calridy.

Maris Hopeful He'll Reach 60

By ASSOCIATED PRESS
Roger Maris has 58 home runs and needs only two more in three decisions to tie Babe Ruth's all time record of 60 set in 1927.

Maris slammed No. 58 yesterday with Tony Kubek on base in the 12th inning in Detroit for a 6 to 4 New York Yankee victory over the Tigers.

Bill Monbouquette of Boston held Baltimore to three singles and won 1 to 0 on Jim Paggiarone's double in the fourth. Lew Krausse, Kansas City's $125,000 rookie, won his first game since June 15 with a five hitter against Washington 3-2.

Minnesota took a pair from Cleveland 5 to 0 and 5 to 3 on Camilo Pascual's seventh shut-out and the combined pitching of Al Schroll and Ray Moore. Chicago swept two from the Los Angeles Angels 8 to 1 and 4 to 3 in 10 innings. Al Smith's grand slammer and Frank Baumann's five hitter won the opener.

In the National League, Philadelphia knocked off Cincinnati 4 to 0; Los Angeles gained a full game cutting the Reds' lead to three and a half games by beating Milwaukee 4 to 3 in 11 innings. San Francisco thumped Chicago 8 to 2, and Larry Jackson of St. Louis shut out Pittsburgh 3 to 0.

Maris is now one game ahead of the Babe's pace.

Asked if he thought he would make it, he replied: "I think I should, but I don't know."

After a layoff today, the Yankees move into Baltimore for the three games that will make or break Roger's record attempt.

Marinites Place In Swim Grind

Two friendly Marin rivals finished well in yesterday's 31st annual Golden Gate Swim Meet sponsored by the South End Rowing Club of San Francisco.

Norm Petersen finished third, swimming the mile and a quarter course in icy salt water in 39 minutes flat. Last year he was tenth. His fellow Marinite, Jim Grant, fifth last year, was sixth this year, covering the distance in 41 and a half minutes.

Dave Lomski was the winner for the second straight year in the time of 31 minutes. Twenty swimmers participated.

Duffalo Faces Braves Tonight In Candlestick

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Jim Duffalo, a rookie pitcher with four wins and no losses, is manager Alvin Dark's choice to start tonight when the San Francisco Giants open a three-game struggle with the Milwaukee Braves at Candlestick Park.

AIM AT THIRD

Although there's a feeble mathematical chance the Giants could win the pennant, most realists feel third place money is in the balance during the Braves' invasion. The third-place Giants go into the series with a two-and-one-half game edge over fourth-place Milwaukee.

Manager Birdie Tebbetts will put Bob Hendley, 5 and 5, on the mound for the Braves.

SWEEP SERIES

The Giants, playing at an 800 percentage clip since they returned home Sept. 8, downed the hapless Chicago Cubs, 8 to 2, yesterday to complete a three-game sweep.

The Milwaukee series is the San Francisco's last home stand of the season.

Bill O'Dell went the distance in yesterday's win over the Cubs. And Felipe Alou swung the big bat for the Giants, batting in four runs.

O'Dell struck out nine and gave up only four hits for his fifth victory of the season. The Giants won 17 of their 22 games with the Chicagoans this year.

Raiders Get Bad Licking In San Diego

SAN DIEGO (UPI)—The San Diego Chargers lived up to their name in their American Football League opener yesterday whipping the Oakland Raiders 44 to 0.

The ball carrying of half-backs Paul Lowe and Bo Roberson and passing of quarterback Jack Kemp figured strongly in the Chargers victory. San Diego rolled to three point lead in the first half, was held scoreless in the third period and pushed over two more touchdowns in the last quarter.

Novato's Hornets Edged 12-7 By Big Analy Team

By PAUL MILLER

Football players with whom the Novato High Hornets smack pads within the 1961 season's remaining games will look like horse jockeys and the referees like Supreme Court justices compared to participants in Saturday's collision with Analy High of Sebastopol.

Coach Marlin Olsen's Novatans were edged 12-7 by a skilled pack of Sonoma County bulls and some controversial calls. The Marinets were so shocked at the contest's outset by the size, running power, and general velocity of their competitors, it took two enemy touchdowns and more than a quarter of play for the Hornets to get their bearings—but when they did, the bulls knew they too were up against a powerhouse.

Fans packed the pleasant new Novato stadium under blue skies in ideal weather. The game was as slect as the day. The visitors in the blue and white jerseys began to stampede right off. Within the first five minutes they had pushed to the Novato nine and were first and ten. The next play Analy halfback Dan Williams thought he was going to drive on through, but was crunched at the three by Novato's John Cook, whose side of the line Analy avoided the remainder of the afternoon.

On the next play, Analy's fullback James Hall rambled in for the first TD. Novato's Art Cherry messed up the PAT.

Novato put the ball in the air from their own 30 the first play after the kickoff, but Analy's Hall grabbed it right out of Novato's wingback Joe Colfer's hands on the 37, and in a few more plays that overlapped into the second quarter, Analy again was on the Novato nine with the help of a 15 yard penalty. Analy lugged it to the one. The next play Williams hustled across in Hall's wake. Hornet line backer Dennis McCormick pounded over the line and stuck his defiant face in the path of the PAT kicker's boot and denied Analy the extra point.

Novato's McCormick received the Analy kickoff on the Novato 30 and brought it to the 21. The Hornets fumbled around, and in three plays were hung up on the 27. They kicked to Analy on a fourth down situation. The latter team took over on their own 42. The second play Analy quarterback Henry Steifel flung a long one that was pulled in by alert Novatan Don Scribner. He picked up momentum as he crossed for 20 yards to his right side of the field, then screamed down the sideline for 45 more measure s and six points. McCormick rambled around right end for the seventh point.

Analy moved from their own 20 to the 35 with the leather after the kickoff, but in the next play the powerful Hornet middle line forced a fumble. Hornet Cook recovered and dove to the Analy 37 where he was hit, and Novato took over first and ten. In ten plays and two first downs made largely by Scribner's completed passes to Martin Baccaglio and Colfer respectively, and right end sweeps by McCormick, the Hornets moved to the Analy

12. There they were held. Analy was kept within their own 35 for four plays. Novato received a punt, but was unable to activate any plays before halftime.

Analy picked up some yardage on running plays and one 10 yard pass play in the third period, but lost the ball at the quarter's conclusion on the Novato 20 when Scribner came through with his second interception and moved to the 26. Novato looked like it was on the way until defensive end James Hardina intercepted a Scribner pass on the Analy 30.

Analy held the ball for nine subsequent plays, eating up the clock. With about three minutes to go Novato had the ball, first and 10 on their own 37, from where four plays later with inches to go for a first down, Scribner surprised the Analy defensive backfield with a 50 yard pass to Colfer, running clear, the leather all but in his hands for what looked like an obvious TD. But Analy's defensive back in desperation flung himself across the back of the Hornet's legs, pulling Colfer down and away from the ball. The referee failed to call interference. Earlier in the game he had assessed a controversial holding penalty against Novato.

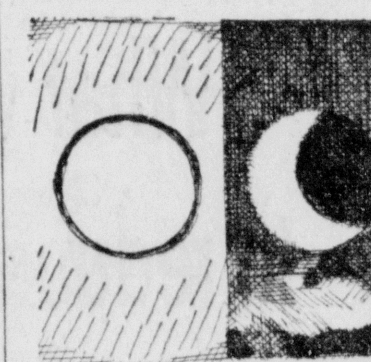

Novato possessed the ball three more times, but were held within their own territory, and in the last two minutes lost the ball twice on Analy interceptions.

Novato's five first downs were half as many as Analy's, but Analy's extra five were by penalties. Novato lost 65 yards in penalties at key and demoralizing times. Analy suffered the loss of 20 yards in penalties. Novato ran 28 plays to Analy's 43, and gained 36 yards rushing to Analy's 78. Novato knocked off 41 yards with six pass completions in 15 attempts. Analy's ratio was two for six, and the same number of yards. Scribner intercepted two passes for Novato, Analy four.

Coach Olsen was pleased with all but the score, the officiating and Hornet offensive blocking. And so he should be pleased considering Analy's team includes 12 returning lettermen, no small first stringers, and is an underrated second place prospect behind Montgomery of Santa Rosa in the North Bay League's Section I. ## day and night... A CEASELESS STREAM OF PEOPLE

In Africa, the Angolans fled their terror-struck country and poured into the strife-torn Congo. Tens of thousands... a ceaseless stream. And they were all hungry. But within days there were tons of powdered milk, rice, beans, fish, and beef, as well as bales of clothing... and hospitals quickly sent medical aid.

On the spot to comfort, feed, house and help were the forces of American religious agencies... dedicated to helping those in need, no matter what their political or religious affiliation.

Help like that given Angolans goes on everywhere. America's three faiths—Protestant, Catholic and Jewish—maintain programs that help millions in need overseas every year... with jobs, tools, education, equipment... and hope. Next time an appeal is made, give generously!

New Science Building On Way For Tam

Construction Set To Start Early In December

The long-awaited new science building at Tamalpais High School, made possible by last spring's successful bond election in the Tam District, is approaching reality.

Drawings have been completed. Construction is expected to begin the first part of December, as soon as the required lapse for state checking and legal bid period.

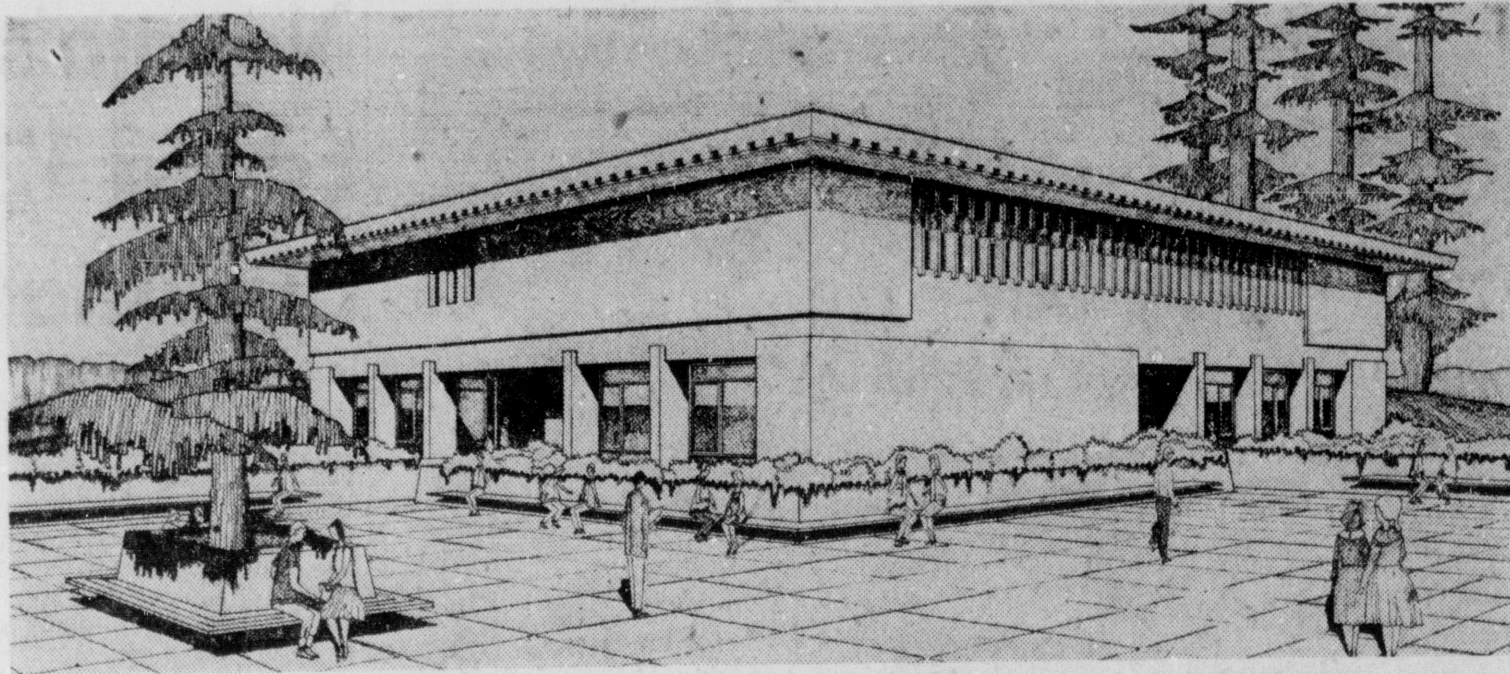

The six-classroom, two-story building is estimated to cost $287,400, including fixed equipment, landscaping and fees, Supt. Chester G. Carlisle said.

While having only one more laboratory classroom than the present science facilities in Keyser Hall, the new building will contain numerous features and much more floor space.

Rooms will be much larger: 30 by 60 feet for the physics and chemistry classes, 30 by 45 feet for the four life science rooms. Physical science rooms will be twice the size of the present ones; the life science rooms, half again the present size.

The building will also have a common research center. It will house exhibits, a science library, and be available for small lecture groups or for showing films and television and for other instructional adjuncts.

Each classroom has a special project room for individual or small group work. Each is constructed so the teacher can control several operations simultaneously; he can lecture one group while other students are at the large lab tables, others are in the special project room, and still others are in the research center.

Lab tables will have electricity, water and gas. Suspended ceilings in removable panels permit ready access for maintenance of utilities.

A two-story open court will be inside the building, a 14 by 24 foot well with a balcony on the second floor. It gives the building an air and light effect, according to architects Carl F. Gromme and Ralph B. Priestley of San Rafael.

The two-story reinforced concrete building is designed, Priestley said, to blend with both the old buildings with their overhangs and cornices, and the new ones below with their broad expanse of concrete.

Located in the area of the old and condemned domestic arts building, once the residence of Principal E. E. Wood, the new structure will be directly across from Ruby R. Scott auditorium. A common court with benches will lie between the new science building and the proposed new canteen and eating area, also author-

As well as serving students, the court can be used as "standing around" space during public performances or games at Scott auditorium.

"Most of the trees will be saved," Priestley said. "We fortunately have been able to work around the best and valuable trees."

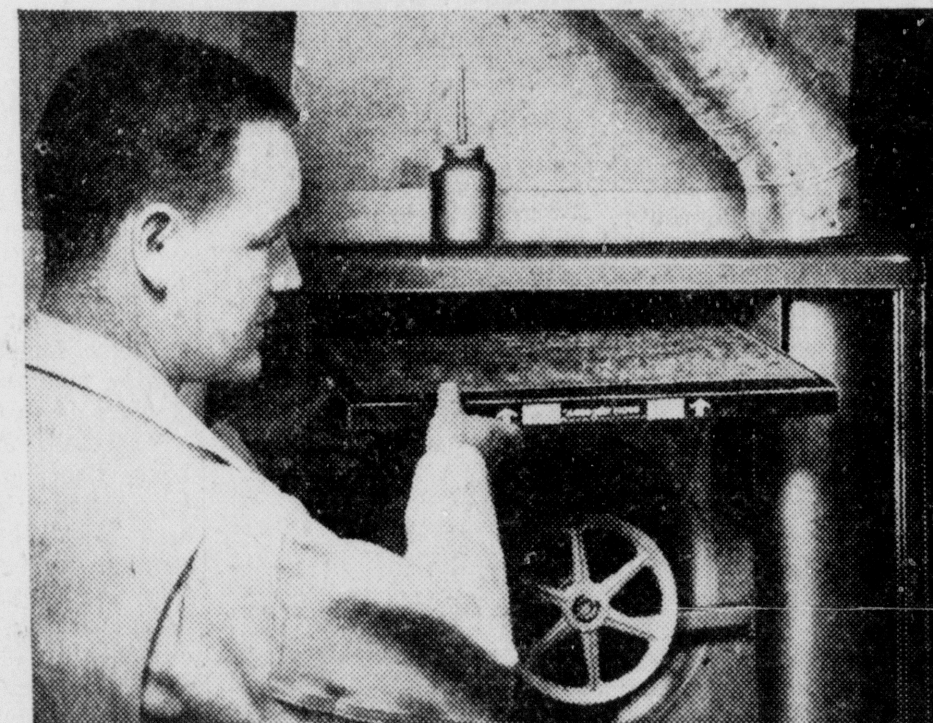

The building will be ready for students next fall. The present science rooms in Keyser Hall will, during next summer, be converted into academic classrooms.

Young Success Seekers Flock To Cities Armed With Dreams

By GAY PAULEY, UPI Women's Editor

Each fall the city population swells with the young and eager thousands who come from all parts of the nation for a future in glamor town.

So you're one of them? What do you need to make the grade?

A woman who works with the young people in New York said the requirements are many—the major ones are money, contacts, talent, physical and mental stamina, and the desire for adventure and exploration.

"But it is amazing how many young people arrive in New York bag and baggage and maybe with one vague little contact they're going to follow up," said Eleanor Dickie, Youth Consultant for the Federation of Protestant Welfare Agencies, Inc.

Forty-four residences affiliated with the federation house 10,000 newcomers needing a place to live for anywhere from six months to two years while they get their bearings in the city.

The federation publishes a list of these residences including cost of room and board, and also has compiled a folder on social and recreational opportunities for young adults.

"The biggest problem for the newcomer is social adjustment," said Miss Dickie. "Finding housing and a job are adjuncts of it. The men make the adjustment more easily because they naturally are the seekers. A girl has to go awfully slow."

CHURCH PROGRAM

She said that "almost every church in New York has some sort of social program to help young people meet others." So do numerous organizations including the YW and YMCA. And, there are specialized groups for those interested in art, music, and the theater, politics and sports.

The federation and its residence staffs offer guidance because "the more we can do to help a person make the adjustment, the more we can look for his or her contribution to the community," said Miss Dickie.

The youth consultant offered these suggestions to any young person planning to leave a smaller town for any metropolis. Don't, unless you have several good leads on jobs and a lot of contacts. Do check your own state employment agency on job opportunities, for each state exchanges this information with other states. Do have enough money in the bank for at least a month in the city, if you already are pretty sure of a job. If not, better bank for at least three months.

She said you can get by on $40 a week in New York, if you live in one of the many residence clubs, and plan to spend only for housing, food, and transportation.

LONG LISTS

One warning—most residences have long waiting lists, so you'll have to start working on a room several months ahead of your move.

Do you know the neighborhood you settle in for safety's sake?

Do resolve to retain your individuality. "You do that," said Miss Dickie, "by recognizing what you have that others don't have, and using these abilities for all they're worth."

Brace up for a competition you never knew in a small town—competition in jobs, in finding living quarters, even to getting on the subway.

Move slowly in making friends, but expect your circle of acquaintances to widen as it might never at home.

To parents whose son or daughter wants to further education or seek a career in a big city, Miss Dickie suggested: "Give the young adult all the encouragement you can. Let him know you have confidence in him. Bail him out financially, if it becomes absolutely necessary. But don't let the young person continually fall back on you for money."

TOO COMPETITIVE

Miss Dickie said that in her opinion few of the tens of thousands of newcomers end up disillusioned and dejected. But many find the highly competitive life is not what they wanted after all—and return home.

"This does not mean they are a failure," she said. "You can't live in a big city without broadening your whole life."

Mrs. Frederick L. Hunt, is the newly elected president of the Kappa Alpha Theta Alumnae of Marin.

Other new officers are Mesdames John Pfeil, vice president; Patrick Leader, secretary; George Mills, treasurer; R. A. Caven, press chairman; Thomas Decker and Lewis Kerlin, Panhellenic chairman.

Sausalitans Schedule Talk By Monique

The Sausalito Woman's Club's first program of the new season is scheduled for Thursday at 2:30 p.m. Mrs. Richard F. Phillips, chairman, will present Monique Benoit, advice columnist for a San Francisco newspaper.

The young French woman will discuss "Love, Life and Problems." Happily married for 12 years, Monique and her husband came to the United States in 1955 and for a while she was a model in New York.

Later that same year they came to San Francisco to live.

Born in Brittany and schooled in Normandy, Monique entered college in 1943 in the Paris of the German occupation. She became a physical education teacher specializing in swimming, ballet and pantomime.

Greeting members and their guests Thursday will be Mesdames Charles W. Ashley and Richard F. Grambow. At tea following the program Mesdames Emmet L. Rixford and Van Allen Treat will pour, with Mrs. Ture Dahlstrom, tea chairman.

WEDNESDAY M-DAY IN TIBURON

There will be something for everyone on the Tiburon Peninsula Wednesday. For by coincidence nearly every organization in the area is planning a meeting.

If it's fashions you like the San Francisco Yacht Club can supply them at a noon luncheon; if art and architecture is your meat, try Raphael Soriano at the Sparks luncheon at the Tiburon Peninsula Club.

At 2:30 p.m. you can hear Charles Durrie, an interior decorator, speak at St. Stephen's Guild at Whitaker Hall. The Women's Assn. of the Westminster Presbyterian Church have invited Mrs. William W. Ainley, a missionary from Africa, to speak at their luncheon.

Finally the Women's Fellowship of the Community Congregational Church will entertain their new members at a swimming party at the lagoon home of Mrs. Robert Evans.

St. Hilary's Women's Guild in a non-conforming mood has chosen to meet tomorrow.

Native Daughters Will Celebrate Diamond Jubilee

Native Daughters of the Golden West will celebrate their diamond jubilee this weekend when Ursula Parlor No. 1 of Jackson will become the mecca for many Marin Native Daughters who will make the "pilgrimage" to commemorate their 75th anniversary.

On Sept. 25, 1886, the organization came into being under the guidance of Lilly Reichling at Jackson with the assistance of the Native Sons in the area.

Mill Valley's Tamelpa Parlor No. 231 is planning varied events and projects for the coming year, led by Mrs. Francis Doyle, president, and her corps of officers.

On Sunday a family picnic will be held at McNear's Beach. Mrs. Dale Tupper is picnic chairman.

Marin Has Another Women's Auxiliary

The San Anselmo Athletic Assn., sponsors of the newly formed winter league semi-pro baseball club, now have the help of the Women's Auxiliary. Officers who will serve the new group are Mrs. Peter Maggi, president; Mrs. Cyril Denning, secretary, and Mrs. Ernest Giono, treasurer.

A dinner and fashion show will be given at Dominic's Nov. 4, with Mrs. George Spackman, chairman.

Credit Women Plan Wine Tasting Party

The third annual Wine Tasting sponsored by the Credit Women's Breakfast Club of Marin is to be held Sunday at 3 o'clock at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bell, 11 Allensby Lane, San Rafael.

Invitations have been sent to the local business firms and more than 20 Credit Women's Clubs in California. This annual fund-raising event is for the benefit of the club's educational fund. Reservations can be obtained from any of the members.

The committees are as follows: Thelma Calderoni, Regina Murray, Terri Jones, Judy Lubarsky, Ethel Nuckols, and Venessa Embry. Preparation committee: Caroline Fooshee, Mildred Carpenter and Dorothy Barton. Betty Theron is in charge of ticket sales.

At the recent meeting held at the Woodlands Restaurant, Kentfield, the following were elected to serve the 1961-62 term: Rachel Gorb, president; Addie Tedrick, vice president; Thelma Calderoni, second vice president; Ella Lossius, recording secretary; Regina Murray, corresponding secretary and Terri Jones, treasurer.

Food Fads Can Load You Up With Unnecessary Products

Second in a series on food fads and supplements, food additives and packaging and cholesterol level and diet, based on the consumer education program of the Nutrition Committee of the Marin Council of Community Services.

By BARBARA HOSMER
"You simply must use safflower oil. It's the only thing now that's considered safe..." "Every child needs vitamins just to make sure..." Every so often you hear statements such as these when you find yourself in a gathering. What are the scientific facts so far known that argue for or against a specific food or diet supplement?

The most talked about area of food faddism is that of fats in the diet, and you hear the terms "low cholesterol," or "poly unsaturated" banded about quite freely. Another fad is the eagerness for gobbling vitamin C (ascorbic acid) and still another concerns the need for amino acid supplements. Where does the truth lie?

Let's listen to McKay McKinnon, district director of the Federal Food and Drug Administration, U.S. Dept. of Health, Education and Welfare.

THERE'S QUACKERY

"Americans have to go out of their way to avoid being well-nourished. Many false ideas are being circulated as cure-alls. Modern and ancient myths exist about such things as fish being 'brain food.' There is quackery in the field of nutrition."

Some of the examples he cited are door to door selling, using a scare technique. These peddlers use lines such as, "all disease is due to diet," or "soil depletion is causing mal-nutrition," "overprocessing of food is removing the vitamins," and the old standby, "if you have that tired feeling or aches and pains you're suffering from sub-clinical vitamin deficiency."

Mr. McKinnon said these statements always contain a grain of truth—enough to get your money. The sad part is, he said, that often someone really ill will try these dietary "cure-alls" rather than seek real medical help until it is too late. He said that the age of self-diagnosis has been costly to human health.

JUST COSTLY

What about the products being offered? Much of the time, McKinnon said, they are not harmful. "Natural" foods from organic farming will not hurt you, nor will extra vitamins (with exceptions noted below) or minerals. But "they are costly and unnecessary unless your doctor prescribes them."

Another authority, Ruth Huenemann, associate professor of public health at the University of California, says, "Food faddism may keep people from seeking medical help until too late. It also is a needless expense. It is our support that keeps the faddists going..."

She urged the consumer to stand back and ask for scientific fact when offered a health product. "Who says it's good? What is his evidence?" are questions you should ask. "Train your children against accepting exaggerated claims and toward scientific fact," she said.

ALL FROM FOOD

The point nutritionists make is that you should be able to get all the nourishment you need, excepting vitamin D, from your food. Infants and children need D given them, but adults normally do not, Dr. Huenemann explained.

She said that aside from the expense, taking unneeded vitamins will not harm you with the exceptions of A and D. These can become toxic in excess. When giving drops to your child give the amount the label suggests—not more. Dr. Huenemann said that between 400 and 1,000 international units per day is right. Avoid more than 1,000. Vitamin D milk has 400 units and should be considered in figuring totals per day, as should the cereals that contain D.

Mothers Of Handicapped Tots Carry An Extra Hard Burden

All mothers have their worries. But one group of mothers carry special burdens. They make incredible sacrifices. Who are they? The mothers of handicapped boys and girls.

Some are like "Mrs. Jones." That's not her real name, of course. Her little girl had a disease called encephalitis. It deadened large parts of her brain. Originally she was a bright, talkative, happy little thing. Now she is back to babyhood. She doesn't speak. She moves slowly. She can't even feed herself. Mrs. Jones has taken her to all the doctors. She has tried all the medicines. She hasn't entirely given up hope. But she knows she'll be her girl's nurse all the rest of her days. How would you feel in her place?

Some are like "Mrs. Smith." Her boy is mentally retarded. She was told he never could talk intelligibly, and that he would not become self-supporting. She refused to believe it. She hunted until she found a school which specializes in children like her son. She borrowed money to take him to it.

Now the boy speaks. He has learned some job skills, and is employed.

Some are like "Mrs. Brown," whose boy is deaf. She found there was a training school for parents of deaf children in Los Angeles. She attended it. Then she got a job. She earned money to pay tuition so her boy could go to the best private school for the deaf. Now her son is 17. He reads lips perfectly. He speaks well. He starts college soon, as a regular student. He'll live a normal life, thanks to her.

See why I admire mothers of handicapped children?

READERS' FORUM

(Q) "Are hobbies good for children? My boy would rather work in his dark-room developing pictures than study his lessons. Should I crack down?" C.V.

(A) Hobbies are good. However, they shouldn't interfere with school work. Try setting up a regular schedule for study. When the work is done your boy could go to his dark-room.

Survey Indicates Library Lack In U. S. Schools

NEW YORK (UPI) — Two-thirds of the elementary schools in the United States are without centralized libraries.

All but 3.3 per cent of secondary schools have centralized libraries — but many are poorly staffed, housed, equipped and financed.

The deficient state of many of the nation's school libraries was found in a statistical study of school libraries conducted by the Library Services Branch of the Office of Education, U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

The study collected information on public school libraries and librarians in school districts with enrollments of 150 or more.

Conducted in 1958-59, it is the most comprehensive report of its type available.

HUGE GAPS

Findings, contrasted with some of the quantitative standards recommended by the American Library Assn., point to huge gaps in the state of many school libraries.

The study showed 5.3 books per pupil in school libraries. Recommended: 10 per pupil.

An average library expenditure per pupil was $1.60. Recommended: $4 to $6.

The standards recommended, one qualified librarian for each 300 students and another librarian for each additional 400 students.

The study, found that public school libraries in the United States were staffed by 17 per cent of the professional personnel essential for good school library service.

MORE THAN SHELF

The U.S. Office of Education estimated that 38 million pupils will be in public schools, and more than 6 million non-public schools in 1961-62 — for whom more than 146,000 school librarians will be needed if standards are to be met.

A library is more than a shelf of books in a classroom. The Library Assn. define one this way:

"It is a centrally organized collection, readily accessible, of many kinds of materials that, used together, enrich and support the educational program."

Mrs. Stannard also announced the appointment of Mrs. Glenn Luther as vice president, Mrs. Cecil Boyd, literature chairman and Mrs. Ronald W. Crawford, assistant fellowship chairman.

Tomorrow at 10 a.m. members will make items for the Oct. 20 Potrero Hill House bazaar at the home of Mrs. Vernon Libby.

cut seam allowance in half the width of hem

"Is there any way to eliminate the bulky look in heavy fabrics at the seams when a hem is turned up?"

Dear Mrs. R.E.E.:

This would be the same technique as grading your seams. Trim the seam allowance to one-half the original width from the hem line to the cut edge of skirt.

Now when the hem is turned up, the edges of the seam will not come in exactly the same place.

"What's the secret of a nice roll-up sleeve? Does the material have to be the same on both sides to make this type sleeve? Is there anything that can be done if the material is not the same on both sides?"

Mrs. D. H. D.

Dear Mrs. D. H. D.:

If the fabric is the same on both sides, you must use a flat-felled seam so that the raw seams will not show on the underarm seam.

If the fabric is not the same on both sides, cut the sleeve perfectly straight from the underarm, and 8 inches more than the finished length you desire.

1. Chalk mark the sleeve, 5 inches from the cut edge. (b) and 8 inches from cut edge (a).

2. Chalk mark again 2 inches from cut edge (c).

3. Turn under ¼ inch of the lower edge of sleeve and machine stitch.

4. Fold sleeve to inside on the 5-inch marks (b). Either hand stitch or machine stitch hem to sleeve. This stitching will not show.

5. Turn cuff up on the fold line (c) in order to give you a 3-inch cuff.

Flat-felled seam: This is a seam finish which leaves no raw edges and is used on sportswear primarily. Stitch right sides of fabric together on seam line. Trim one edge of seam close to seam line. Turn under the wider edge and machine stitch flat along the creased edge. This stitching is usually about ⅜-inch from seam.

Please send your questions and suggestions to Sew Simple, in care of the Independent-Journal Women's Dept. Perhaps you will win a tailor tripping board. If you're having trouble with sleeves, you'll find help in Eunice Farmer's tent booklet, "All About Sleeves." To obtain it, send ten cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Eunice Farmer in care of the I-J.

Can You Judge Man By Tie? Yes Say Discerning Females

Girls, ever wish that you could really tell a book by its cover—as far as men are concerned?

This is not wishful thinking according to the Men's Tie Foundation which has issued guide rules that help discerning females judge the man in their lives by their neckwear.

First of all, pay particular attention to the type of knot the man ties. A long, large, slovenly knot denotes a shifty, untrustworthy gent. He tends to be impulsive and never worries about tomorrow.

The man who ties a firm, neat knot probably has a strong will, is adept at putting his thoughts into words, and can be pleasantly persuasive.

The pattern and color of a tie tell another story about the man.

White or palest pastels indicate the man is a wolf, and if he wears a pearl tie tack he will more than likely arrive in a convertible.

Authentic repp stripes foretell a man of business, possibly advertising, or more than likely stocks and bonds. He has finished at least two years of college, and will no doubt marry around the age of 32.

Very splashy hand paints and you know the man's an egotist. He is a self-styled expert on everything from women's fashions to the aerodynamics of the moon shot.

The rugged quality of a handwoven wool tie denotes a man who would rather talk about football than girls.

A solid color tie that exactly matches the suit color speaks of a timid but most sincere fellow. If he sells you a TV set you can throw away your repair man's telephone number.

Printed silk ties and you can be sure he's got a bank account or two . . . or three . . . even if he makes only the minimum daily wage.

Silver tones depict a man who can see the bright side of life even when the chips are down. Also, he is most apt to keep a piggy bank in his top dresser drawer.

Small under-the-knot patterned ties assure the girls that they're gazing at a born executive. If he hasn't achieved that status yet, it's no fault of his, and he'll go on trying till they give him his 25-year pin.

The bow tie wearer is a philosopher. Plan to spend your Sunday afternoon discussing art and literature.

If your man doesn't wear a tie he thinks more of his comfort than he does of you.

Today is Monday, Sept. 18, the 261st day of the year with 104 to follow in 1961.

The moon is approaching its full phase.
The morning star is Venus.

The evening stars are Jupiter and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1850, Congress passed the Fugitive Slave Act, permitting a slave-owner with a certificate of ownership to reclaim a slave who escaped into another state.

In 1851, the first issue of the New York Times newspaper was published.

In 1927, the Columbia Broadcasting System went on the air with a basic network of 16 stations.

A thought for today: English philosopher John Locke said: "New opinions are always suspected, and usually opposed, without any other reason but because they are not already common."

HOW TO PLAY WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Too Much Activity At Table Can Hurt Your Bridge Game

We all know the bridge player who never lifts a finger. He has had a hard day at the office, and he doesn't intend to use an ounce of energy at the bridge table. If you hate to cut such a player as your partner, just thank your lucky stars that you didn't draw the player who can never manage to sit still.

West led the jack of clubs, and the defenders took the first two tricks in that suit. South ruffed the third club, led a diamond to dummy's king, and returned dummy's jack of hearts for a finesse.

West won the third defensive trick with the king of hearts and returned a trump, content to let declarer develop the hand by himself. To put it another way, West knew how to sit still.

CLEVER CARD: We can't say as much for East. That busy fellow had to discard on the second round of trumps, and he decided to play a clever nine of spades.

The idea was to talk South out of the spade finesse. As it happened, South had no other play for the contract. Moreover, South had seen clever plays before. Hence declarer led the jack of spades after drawing trumps.

West covered with the king of spades, and dummy's ace won. South got back with a diamond to lead the eight of spades for another finesse. West's ten of spades was trapped, and South made his contract.

It's easy to see that South would lose a spade trick if East kept the nine of spades. A frantically busy opponent can be a friend in need.

DAILY QUESTION: Partner bids one spade, and the next player doubles. You hold:

♥ K 10 6 4
♦ K 3 2

♠ J 10 9 2

What do you say?

Answer: Bid three spades. This jump, following a take-out double, is a sort of shutout bid, promising a good trump support and the strength of an ordinary single raise. With a really good hand you would redouble.

Mill Valley Library Trying For Award

Mill Valley Library trustees Thursday night voted to apply for the Dorothy Canfield Fisher Award, an honor which, if won, would give the library money with which to buy added books. It is the first time the library has made this application, president Benjamin Draper said.

Trustees also discussed the sale of duplicate books donated to the library and referred the money to the friends of the library. If duplicate books were sold, Draper said, the money would be used to purchase more books.

Big Business, Kennedy Split Is Widening

NEW YORK (AP) — Signs of a split between big business and the Kennedy administration have widened into a new area — responsibility for inflation.

Steel leaders have crossed swords with the President over whether a rise in steel prices this fall would set off another wage-price inflationary spiral. This would put still another pinch on your pocketbook.

The President fears that a steel price rise when wage scales go up next month would start a spiral because "steel is a bellwether as well as a major element in industrial costs."

Roger M. Blough, chairman of U.S. Steel, denies this and charges instead that "the causes of inflation — in a highly competitive economy with ample industrial capacity such as ours — are clearly associated with the fiscal, monetary, labor and other policies of government."

The general area of disagreement is the question: Do business pricing policies threaten the stability of the economy?

Or beyond that: Is business management too greedy for profits and too indifferent to what that may do to the cost of living?

Big business touchiness about administration policies has been growing more evident for some time.

An early break in the entente cordiale of recent years came when Commerce Secretary Luther H. Hodges and the old Business Advisory Committee for the department parted ways. Each side blamed the other for the falling out.

There is increasing belief in industrial board rooms that Washington in its antitrust campaigns against industry pricing policies or corporate and banking mergers is aiming largely at bigness itself, rather than primarily at any threatened or actual restraint of trade.

Big business also tends to be critical of government labor policies, lest they favor wage rises that will send operating costs higher and thus further pinch profit margins.

A wary eye is kept on increased government spending policies. They help business insofar as more orders go. But they also raise the fear of further inflation — and still more worrisome to business, of further infiltration of government into areas once sacred to private business.

The administration position is that big business fears are unjustified. Washington takes care to admonish big labor about exorbitant demands at the same time it urges business to hold the price line.

And it stoutly asserts that tax collections from a growing economy will take care of the rise in government spending without any recourse to monetary inflation.

But the split between the two views grows more apparent and more serious.

Greyhound Award

Greyhound driver Edward G. Cox, 37 Harte Avenue, San Rafael, has been honored for ten years of highway driving marked by a perfect safety record for an estimated 350,000 miles. Western Greyhound Lines said in San Francisco he was given a gold watch, new shoulder insignia and safety award certificate.

Mosquito Unit Purchases Truck

Directors of the Marin Mosquito Abatement District Thursday night approved purchase of a 1948 Jeep truck from Hugo E. Clever of Novato for $771.

District manager G. Paul Jones was instructed by the board to bring in specifications for a new pickup truck for which bids will be called.

Jones was also instructed to "initiate and cooperate" with the cities and the county on annexations of new subdivision areas to the district. In 46 years of operation, Terra Linda Unit 4 is the first large subdivision to be built outside the district boundaries, the directors were told.

The next board meeting was set for Oct. 11 instead of Oct. 12, a legal holiday.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:
A X Y D L B A A X R
L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

First U.S. newspaper to use "water base" type ink*

Have you noticed that I-J type looks cleaner . . . and blacker? That you can read more easily?

This printing advance has been years in the making. It's all due to a new kind of "water base" type ink developed by the California Ink Company. And your newspaper, the Independent-Journal, is the first* in this country to adopt it for printing the entire paper.

For advertisers, this new ink means a sharper image, a wider range of tones in illustrations, less "show through" of type and pictures. (Which also helps the reader).

We're still trying to improve it, working with Cal-Ink research experts . . . changing the "mix," running the presses. (We'd like to lick the problem of smudge or rub-off, for instance . . . which bothers every newspaper).

It's another example of how the I-J is putting new ideas into print . . . to bring you a better newspaper.

YOU'VE HELPED US PASS ANOTHER MILE STONE AND DRAKE PHARMACY ENTERS IT'S 3rd YEAR OF

LOW PRESCRIPTION PRICES

It's with great pride that we enter the third year of our "Low Prescription Price" program. Actually—3 years is not a long time. However, it seems like a long time to us for this plan has taken almost 34 years to bring into actuality. We have taken from every minute of experience in our 34 years of operating successful drug stores... from every buying contact... from tested overhead controls to plan this program, which must be permanent... not temporary. Our prescription prices exist at their lowest level every day of the year—they are our regular prices.

When we opened Drake Pharmacy we knew we were nearing the completion of this plan. The location was right—near a large number of people—easy to reach—yet outside of an expensive downtown location. As a matter of fact—we are much more accessible both in freedom of traffic flow and plentiful parking than most downtown stores.

Reproduced on this page is our original ad (upper left) of two years ago. Also reproduced are other ads (5 of 25) that we have published in the Independent-Journal to keep you informed of price changes—both lower and higher as the market indicated. It was interesting to note that of the original items listed in our first ad—all but three are now selling for less.

We will continue to keep you informed through the Independent-Journal as to our low prices—but we repeat that prices mentioned are to give information and list examples only. These prices are not "specials." Nor do we advertise every time we lower prices—just periodically to keep you up-to-date and explain our policy to newcomers.

All items advertised are USP controlled as to quality. There can be no substitution under law. All drugs must also be prescribed by your doctor.

Periodically it may be possible that some other drug stores may offer isolated items for a few cents less. We can't do this for our whole program is built on the basis of all our items are priced as low as we can possibly mark them and still make what we consider to be a reasonable profit—and that these prices remain consistent everyday of the year. We do not lower some prices and raise others to make up the difference. We believe this to be the most honest, ethical and beneficial way to do business.

During the past two years it has been most rewarding to have doctors, congressmen, newspapers, clergymen, lawyers, druggists, and many others in public life compliment and support our program. Most rewarding are the letters, phone calls and personal visits you have made, not as our customers, but as our friends offering many fine compliments and suggestions.

All we can say is—OUR LOW PRESCRIPTION PROGRAM IS HERE TO STAY, and

Thank You,
B. CASSELL, Pres.

WE PLEDGE

DRAKE PHARMACY
810 Sir Francis Drake Blvd.
San Anselmo, Calif.

The prescription department of a drug store is their chief source of revenue. All dispensing is done by a registered pharmacist, licensed by the state... a graduate of extensive training from a major university—therefore the cost of drugs plus a professional fee is charged. If Drake Pharmacy is of low cost—then it stands to reason that other items sold in this store are less costly, also.

Sincerely,
Drake Pharmacy

We feel that you have the right to know what your prescription will cost before you order. Therefore, we will periodically publish our charges for drugs commonly prescribed by your doctor. These items will only be a few of many, many possible drugs dispensed by prescription from this store. They will, however, illustrate the responsibility we feel in helping you keep medical costs to a minimum.

Prices advertised are regular prices—not "sale" items. We make a profit on each—we sufficient profit, we feel. All drugs are U.S.P. standard—they cannot be otherwise under law—nor can substitutes be used.

Fast and present check shows that our prescription prices are consistently lower than others. We offer no explanation for this—we are interested in operating our business only. We only point out that our policy of informing you of drug costs is your only assurance that you will pay less at Drake Pharmacy.

We will be glad to answer any questions you may have regarding this policy—and we urge you to consult with your doctor concerning our service.

Sincerely,
Drake Pharmacy, Inc.
